SEVEN INJURED IN COMMUNIST PROTEST IN PARIS

Bomb Is hrown Into Crowd at RadicalT Meeting

SIX SUSPECTS ARE ARRESTED

Demonstration Against American Embassy Planned

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—Seven policemen were injured tonight by the explosion of a bomb thrown into a crowd during a meeting held by the French communist party in protest against the conviction for murder in Massachusetts of the Italians Sacco and Vanzetti. Several manifestants also were hurt, and six persons were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct.

The meeting had been widely advertised as a protest against the American government, capitalists and the "execution" of Sacco and Vanzetti. Speakers were bitter in their vituperation of the American government.

Ten thousand persons crowded into the hall and when the capacity of the hall was reached there were many demonstrators outside. It had been announced as the intention of the leaders to head the throng on a march to the American embassy. There was no attempt to do this.

Mounted republican guards and many police patrolled the vicinity, while additional forces were held ready to handle the crowd when the meeting ended and prevented any demonstration or a march toward the embassy, around which a guard also was posted.

While the proceedings in the hall were without incident, except for fiery speeches, the crowd outside resented efforts of the police to keep them on the move, during which three shots were fired at the mounted men. One fell, and the man who did the firing was immediately cut down by the saber of another mounted man. The police then closed the hall and would not permit any one to enter or leave. During the speeches the audience called on the leaders to march upon the embassy, but the speakers made no reference to such a move.

The anarchist newspaper Libertaire and various communist newspapers, all calling upon the workers to obtain the release of Sacco and Vanzetti, were circulated in the hall.

After the meeting an unexploded bomb was found under a seat on the Boulevard near Wagram avenue. It was of the Mills type and similar to the one sent to Ambassador Herrick and the one thrown among the police.

Many Displays Are Proposed

PARIS, Oct. 21.—Demonstrations for Sunday at the American consulates throughout the French provinces continue to be planned by communists as a protest against the conviction of the Italians, Sacco and Vanzetti, in Massachusetts.

It was announced today that the Nantes communists will hold a manifestation before the American consulate there. Similar displays were announced for Lille, Bordeaux, Marseilles, St. Nazaire, Lyons and other places wherever the American government is represented. The demonstration which, according to police information, was set for 4 p. m. today in front of the American embassy here, did not develop.

French police officials asserted today that more than 100 members of the young communist organization in Europe had slipped through the immigration lines and reached the United States within the last two months for the purpose of "causing trouble" if the two Italians, Sacco and Vanzetti, were executed for the murder of which they were convicted in Massachusetts last summer.

Many of these men, the officials said, had been refused passports at the American passport bureau at Paris, but later were able to get to America by other means. The police now are working on the theory that some of these communists who failed to get through the lines were responsible for the bomb sent to Ambassador Herrick which blew up in his home on Wednesday. This theory is the result of a threat made by a young communist who said he was an Italian at the American passport offices here last Monday when the officials told him they could not give him a vise for America unless he conformed with the regulations. The applicant, who gave his age as 22 years, became angry when refused, exclaiming "somebody will get killed for this." A guard was immediately placed at the entrance to the office. This man, the police think, may be one of the group responsible for the bomb sent to the ambassador and threats made against American officials in France.

Ambassador Herrick when he returned to his office this morning, found 68 additional letters of protest in connection with the Massachusetts case, two of them containing threats of reprisals against Americans if the executions took place. The guard at the embassy was increased today and every possible precaution has been taken to protect the passport bureau, the reparations commission officers and the American consulate.

The communist mass meeting of protest against the conviction of the two Italians, called for tonight in one of the largest halls of Paris, is causing some apprehension and the republican guard has been called out to keep order and prevent demonstrations of any kind in front of the embassy or other American offices.

FIGHT BREAKS ON TAX RATE; CALL IN G. O. P.

Confident Compromise Plan Will Be Adopted

Republicans' Lack of Interest Attacked by Penrose

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The long threatened fight over income surtax rate to be written into the new revenue law broke today in the Senate, but despite a sizeable opposition, Republican leaders expressed confidence that the compromise plan embodying a maximum rate of 50 percent would be adopted, probably tomorrow.

Meantime as a result of the defeat yesterday of the proposal to exempt from taxation incomes of foreign traders and foreign trade corporations received from sources outside of the United States, the majority leaders sent out a hurry call to absent Republican senators to return.

Absence of Republican senators was commented on by Chairman Penrose of the Finance Committee.

"Questions of paramount importance are being disposed of here while Republican senators are absent and indifferent," he said. "I want to call the attention of the country to it. It will meet with comment and condemnation."

Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, Nebraska, called attention that eleven Republicans joined with the Democrats in defeating the committee amendment yesterday, while Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, said only 15 Republicans were absent and not voting while 12 Democrats also were absent and not voting.

While defeated in the first skirmish over amendments explained as designed to aid American concerns in competing with foreign rivals for overseas trade, Chairman Penrose said today an effort would be made later to get a provision in the bill to protect those concerns, particularly those being in business in the Philippines and in China.

Only a few senators desiring to discuss the income surtax rates got the opportunity today before the Senate recessed.

Senator Hitchcock proposed an amendment to the compromise under which rates on incomes in excess of $100,000 would be the same as those in existing law. Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, contended if rates were to be lowered on large incomes they also should be lowered on incomes below $5,000.

State Birth Rate Shows Slight Gain

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 21.—While the birth rate increased, the death rate decreased in California during the period from January to August, 1921, according to figures announced here today by L. E. Ross, statistician of the state board of health. Considered from the standpoint of age groups, the only increase in the death rate was among people over 65 years of age, Ross said, all other groups having shown a decrease.

The birthrate for the first seven months this year, the figures show, was 19.5 per thousand inhabitants as compared to a rate of 19.3 per thousand for 1920. The death rate so far this year is only 12.9 per thousand residents, as against last year's record of 13.5 per thousand. Ross said the Chinese and negroes are the only ones among the race classifications showing an increase in the death rate, a decrease is shown by all races, including whites, Japanese and Indians.

Will Probe Death of Major Dunigan

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 21—A board of officers of the Tenth field artillery at Camp Lewis will begin tomorrow to investigate the death of Major Francis J. Dunigan, 29, shot after being mistaken for a deer in the forest 70 miles from here.

Major Dunigan, who was from Sacramento, was a Westpoint graduate of 1916 and served in France with the 90th division.

Major Dunigan was hunting with Major Samuel C. Gurney and Captain J. B. Matlack. These officers reported that Peter Zabritski, their guide, fired the fatal shot.

CONFERENCE ON PEACE IS THREATENED

Believe Monday Session May Be Last to Be Held

Sinn Feiners Charge Breaches Made By English

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The negotiations between British officials and Irish leaders barely escaped being definitely broken off and for a time it seemed possible that the Sinn Fein delegates would return to Dublin today, it was learned after today's adjournment was taken. The Irish delegates still were apprehensive this afternoon that the session scheduled for next Monday might be the last.

Representatives of the Dail Eireann and the British government resumed at noon today their conference relative to a basis upon which might be built a lasting peace in Ireland, but after an hour and a half adjourned until next Monday. Since the last meeting of the conference adjourned early this week, committees charged with examination of definite subjects have been hard at work.

Sinn Fein headquarters here in a statement today declared only minor breaches of the truce had been committed on the Sinn Fein side, and charged serious breaches against the crown forces.

"These latter breaches, the statement says, "were not the result of Irish provocation, but definitely instigated and encouraged by a high source in Dublin Castle."

FREE MINISTER FOR SHOOTING

Acqquitted For Death of Priest

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 21.—Rev. Edwin R. Stephenson was found not guilty by a jury tonight of the charge of second degree murder growing out of the killing of Father James E. Coyle, catholic priest, on August 11. The jury was out four hours.

Rev. Stephenson, a Methodist minister, has been on trial since Monday charged with second degree murder in connection with the shooting to death of Father Coyle on the porch of the catholic rectory at St. Pauls Church on August 11.

The indictment of the grand jury against the preacher, the pistol with which he is alleged to have fired the fatal shot, shortly after the priest had united in marriage the Rev. Stephenson's daughter Ruth, and Pedro Gussman, a Porto Rican catholic, and a pair of suspenders worn by Stephenson at the time of the shooting, which were offered as evidence at the trial, were handed to the jurymen as they retired.

TO INSPECT PLANE

HICKSVILLE, N. Y., Oct. 21.—An armored, all metal monoplane, carrying 30 machine guns, and designed for attacking infantry, entrenched or in the open, left here at 9.15 this morning with Brock Hyde Pierson as pilot for a trip to Washington to be inspected by army and navy officials. The plane is designed to resist all weather conditions, to carry three men and has an automatic firing device which provides for the discharge of 3600 rounds of ammunition in four minutes.

LEGISLATION IN BUSINESS IS DISPROVED

Sshwab States Time Will Adjust Situation

Says Country Suffers From Excessive Overhead

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the executive board of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, told members of the American Mining Congress at their annual banquet tonight that to his mind there is nothing in the business situation which time, and the laws of trade and economics, will not straighten out. The danger, he said, lies in the effort to force an adjustment through legislation.

Legislators must give American industry an opportunity to adjust itself, he said. The country already is suffering from an excess of national, state and municipal overhead, he said.

He expressed the opinion that there is no justifiable reason for government interference with or regulation of the coal industry.

"Prices have dropped irregularly," he said. "Wages have gone down in some lines, and are maintained in others. Short time has reduced the earnings of many workmen and unemployment has put a heavy burden on many more.

"Products of the farm have dropped to about pre war levels and the high cost of transportation invades deeply the farmer's narrow margin.

"Yet, the railroad workers resent any reduction in wages which will make a lowering of freight rates possible.

"Everywhere the process of readjustment is creating discord and discontent. Every where our people want to hold on to what the war brought in the matter of increase of income, and want to lay the sacrifice involved in deflation on some other back.

"Russia embarked on the plan of centralizing the control of all industry in government hands and no one is anxious to take another chance at that experiment."

Japan's Note to China Is Made Public

By the Associated Press.

TOKYO, Oct. 21.—The foreign office today gave out for publication its recent note to China in connection with Japan's proposals for direct negotiations with that nation over Shantung. The text of China's reply, dated October 5, was appended.

Commenting on this correspondence, a foreign office official reiterated the view previously expressed in Japanese government quarters that Japan could not comprehend China's refusal of direct negotiations. In view of the fact that Japan's former note was based on informal conferences with representatives of China.

If China would submit a counter proposal, the official declared, Japan would gladly give it consideration.

Sees English-U. S. Pact in Warfare

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 21—The United States and Great Britain would be found standing together if any trouble developed in the Far East, Viscount Northcliff, London publisher, who arrived here today from Australia, told the Rotary club at a luncheon.

The publisher praised the United States for what had been accomplished in the Philippines.

"I take off my hat to America for what she has done here," he said.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 21—Police today were investigating a report made by P. Reynolds, a negro porter at the Union station, who said he returned home last night and found his wife beaten over the head and branded with the letter "K" in blood on her left cheek. On her bed chamber door was a note signed "K K K" warning the couple to leave the neighborhood. She was unable to describe her assailants other than to say they were two white men.

UNITED STATES TO MAINTAIN ARMAMENT STATUS

Building Program Will Keep America in Second Place

GREAT BRITAIN TO STILL LEAD

Japanese Additions To Navy Leads In Construction

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21—Latest statistics of the naval establishments of the world's leading maritime powers, compiled by informed officials here, indicate that the American navy still will be securely established in second place when present building programs are completed.

According to the tabulation of fighting ships, Great Britain leads with 533, with an aggregate tonnage of 1,560,450, the United States has 464 ships of 1,289,463 tons and Japan, 99, of 628,689 tons. France and Italy hold fourth and fifth positions with tonnage totaling 462,000 and 275,000 respectively.

Completion of present programs will add 17 ships to the British navy, or 19,380 tons, 69 to the American of 734,928 tons and 85 to the Japanese of 850,158 tons, exclusive of a special submarine program comprising 120 submersibles.

Lacking information as to speed and gun power of some units included in latest authorized naval programs, experts pointed out that a comparison of "battle efficiency" was difficult, if not practically impossible.

Comparing heavier fighting ships, the tabulation shows Great Britain excels in battle cruisers, having six of the first and four of the second line, while Japan has four of the first line and the United States none. In battleships Great Britain still leads with 26, while the United States has 19, Japan six, France seven and Italy four.

Great Britain has six second line battleships, which she is said to be ready to sell or scrap, while the United States continues to hold 15, Japan four, France seven and Italy five. In light cruisers Great Britain has 45, aggregating 188,545 tons; the United States none, Japan nine, totaling 42,331 tons, France four, and Italy five.

The United States leads with destroyers, having 293 of the first line to Great Britain's 287 and Japan's 40. In submarines Great Britain leads. She has 64 of the first line and 59 of the second line, compared with 67 and 44 on the American naval lists.

Great Britain has the only naval aircraft carriers, but the United States is remodeling a ship to serve in that capacity. Great Britain has four of the first line and three of the second.

Heavy Fog Aids Blaze Fighters

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 21—A heavy fog dropped down over the firelit hills back of Montecito last night and saved that fashionable suburb from heavy loss if not destruction.

More than a hundred men battled with the flames until long past midnight. The fire, swept by a rising wind, crept nearer and nearer the locality of costly homes, despite their efforts. Hot Springs resort was wiped out and many homes threatened. Some of the residents started to move out their most valuable belongings. It was at this point that Providence took a hand. The wind was suddenly stilled, while a friendly fog, waiting this signal, drifted in. With its assistance the fire fighters were able to establish a line that is believed will hold.

50 Year Old Town Has Sunday School

DAVENPORT, Iowa, Oct. 21.—News of the establishment of the first Sunday school in Walcott, Iowa, 12 miles from Davenport, was received here today. Although a prosperous town, Walcott, since its founding 50 years ago, has never supported or tolerated a church.

"We always have peace, loyalty and order in our town without churches, and we don't want this spirit disturbed," one leading citizen said in explanation. Until a few years ago, Walcott was the wealthiest town per capita in the nation.

ISSUE WARRANT

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 21.—Governor William D. Stephens today issued an extradition warrant for the return to Omaha, Neb., of Jacob Masse and Charles Wohlberg, held at Los Angeles, who are wanted there on a charge of aiding in the embezzlement of $100,000 from the Missouri Valley Cattle Loan company.

FRESH FRUITS ACCEPTED AT SHIPPER'S RISK

Southern Pacific Will Not Issue Clean Lading Bill

NO DECLARATION BY SANTA FE

Estimate 2500 Cars of Perishables to Be Shipped

The Southern Pacific last night discontinued accepting fresh fruit except on bills of lading holding the shippers responsible for loss in case of damage or delay of shipments. The order issued from local headquarters was given to the press with the statement that it was due to the threatened tieup of the railroads on account of the strike.

The order was said to apply both to perishables and livestock, and bills of lading dated today will be indorsed as follows:

"Within described shipments accepted subject to loss from damage to delay on account of threatened strike on lines of the Southern Pacific or connecting carriers."

The local Santa Fe office last night had no information as to possible action by that line similar to that taken by the Southern Pacific. No order had been received, and until instructions are received here the local office will continue to accept perishables and issue a clean bill of lading, it was stated.

Fresh fruit men were generally ignorant last night of the order issued by the Southern Pacific, and in several instances were reluctant to talk without having formal notification from the railroad. It was said, however, that if the railroads would not issue clean bills of lading, the shippers would be placed at such a disadvantage as to make it probable that receipts of fresh fruit from growers would be discontinued.

2,500 Cars To Be Shipped

Fruit men variously estimated the amount of fresh fruit remaining in the valley at 2,000 to 3,000 cars, the opinion being that the total still to be shipped would be about 2,500 cars. his consists largely of second crop muscats, a few wine grapes, and almost the entire crop of emperors. Market conditions were said to have been "picking up" about the time the strike situation arose, and hte price on emperors was particularly promising. The fresh grape harvest still on hand in the valley, it is estimated, is worth more than $4,000,000.

The Fresno clearing house yesterday was keeping a watchful eye on the situation, but several members declared that no new developments had occurred in the financial situation with regard to fresh fruit. The Growers' National bank was accepting paper on fruit already in transit for four or five days, on paper for collection, or where the money had been deposited in the east to the credit of the shipper.

DENY VOTE TO END STRIKE

Yarrow Confers With Leaders

Special to The Republican.

COALINGA, Oct. 21.—Rev. Fred W. Jackson, secretary of the local oil workers' strike committee, today denied that a vote had ever been taken by Coalinga workmen to return to work. He also declared that no such vote had been taken by any other union local affected by the strike.

Jackson's statement today followed an announcement by Secretary Swindell of the Operators' association that notices had been sent out and the fields would be opened under the American Plan of operation and dealing with employes.

Walter J. Yarrow, advisor of the Oil Workers' union, was an unexpected arrival in Coalinga last evening and held a brief informal conference with the strike committee. Nothing has been revealed by strike headquarters relative to the nature of Yarrow's business here. Local officials refused to give out any information, but it was intimated the leader's activity points toward ultimate settlement of the strike.

Sheriff W. J. Jones was informed by strike headquarters last evening that a truck loaded with 30 armed strike breakers had left Fresno about 6 o'clock and were en route to Coalinga. The sheriff immediately notified his office in Fresno and instructed a car to leave there to overtake the truck. The sheriff and his local deputies left Coalinga at the same time and the two county cars met at a point near Helm but no trace of the reported strikebreakers had been found.

Suspect Connected With Mining Man

SANTA ANA, Calif., Oct. 21.—C. G. Noble, city recorder of Taft, Calif., testified today that Mrs. May Campbell, on trial here charged with the murder of her husband, Jeff V. Campbell, formerly an oil well worker at Taft, was associated 15 years ago with George Wingfield, a prominent mining man of Tonopah, Nev.

Defense attorneys, who produced Recorder Noble as a witness, indicated that his testimony is a part of foundation for testimony they intend to present to show that rMs. Campbell was insane. She is alleged to have shot her husband to death in a tent at Balboa, a beach town near here, June 27, last, shortly after the couple had become reunited after she had obtained a divorce on grounds of cruelty.

RAILROAD MEN ARE ORDERED NOT TO STRIKE

Full Jurisdiction Is Assumed By Rail Labor Board; Plan Conference

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The government today moved to prevent a railroad strike and to enforce obedience by the unions and roads of decrees of the Railroad Labor board. The board announced it had assumed full jurisdiction in the rail crisis and ordered the workers not to strike pending a conference of union heads and rail chiefs which is called for October 26.

A decision from this conference will not be announced until after October 30, the scheduled strike date, board mem elrssaid, declaring that in this way a walkout would be averted, unless the unions defied the board's orders not to strike pending a ruling.

The action was taken following receipt from Washington of information that every interested branch of the government would back the board in its attempts to settle the rail difficulties, members declared.

While both carriers and unions promptly announced they would comply with the order citing them to appear before the board Wednesday, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, one of the organizations which has called a strike, in a statement given out in Cleveland, asked by what authority anyone could compel a man to work, and pointed out that the right to strike had been upheld by the United States Supreme court.

To Carry Out Plans

Trainmen on the International and Great Northern, a Texas road, prepared to carry outp lans to strike tomorrow, and the maintenance of way and the firemen's unions, representing 400,000 rails workers, announced that they would join the proposed walkout October 30. These two groups are part of the 11 unions numbering three fourths of the rail employes, which had voted to strike, but had not issued a strike call.

Besides stepping into the breach betwen the carriers and the five unions which have called a strike—the trainmen, the switchmen, the engineers, the firemen and the conductors—the labor board summarily ordered the remont and Gulf railroad, a 67 mile line in Louisiana, to rescind its order installing an open shop effective tonight.

In the unions choose to carry through strike plans which the board asked them to defer, members of the board said that the next move would have to come from Washington, intimating that today's action exhausted their attempts to furnish the teeth which the transportation act creating the board, was said by many to lack. At the same time it was pointed out that the transportation act gives the board power to cite the interested parties for alleged violation of its rulings, as it did in calling next Wednesday's conference, but provides no penalties for violation of its decrees.

In connection with the labor board order to defer strike action, it was pointed out that the "big five" union chiefs yesterday informed the board that the strike could not be postponed, as no arrangements for such a contingency had been made, although it could be settled.

Announcement Surprising

he board's announcement came as one of the most sensational developments in the rail crisis. It was issued virtually without warning and at a time when the consensus of opinion had been that this governmental agency had met an impasse in its attempts to settle the crisis when its conference yesterday with union chiefs was adjourned with the announcement that no results had been attained. Coming as the first instance where the board so decisively expressed authority which many railroad and labor men had maintained it did not possess, the board's action found most of the interested leaders too astounded to comment.

Tonight local railroad presidents refused to discuss the pronouncement other than to say that it would be complied with by them. They declared that they had not violated the board's decision and took the attitude that the citation really was directed at the unions alone, saying that carriers were called in simply because it was necessary to have both sides represented. Under such conditions they said, it would be unethical to comment on the announcement or to attempt to interpret it.

Action of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes and of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers in announcing that they would join a walkout, was looked on by labor leaders as especially significant, one chief professing to see in it a possible healing of any breaks which might have existed between the eleven standard unions which had voted for a strike without calling one and the "big five." Leaders of several of these organizations had announced that they would attempt to keep their men from walking out despite overwhelming strike votes and had expressed hope that, if their attempts were succesful, their failure to support the "big five" might avert a walkout.

Unions May Split

Other union leaders however, said that it was by no means certain as yet that a majority of the eleven organizations would walk out. It became known that the meetings of the conference committee of 100 of the six shop crafts unions, numbering 476,000 men, have been stormy, the chairmen splitting over what strike recommendations should be made to the 1,000 general chairmen who will go into session tomorrow or Sunday.

A report submitted to the committee authorizing a strike was sent back to the executive council to be rewritten, it was said, although it could not be learned whether the new report would oppose a walkout or simply urge postponement of action.

While leaders of these groups a few days ago admitted they probably could not hold back their men, tonight they appeared more confident of keeping them from joining a strike.

Maintenance of Way men cast a vote of 98 percent in favor of a strike, 365,000 men voting to quit, their officials announced, and their leaders tonight completed plans for a walkout, declaring it would be in "an orderly and lawabiding manner." It was announced that the chieftains felt they were forced to authorize a strike with such an overwhelming vote in favor of it.

Stationary firemen made virtually the same announcement, their vote for a strike being given out as 92 percent.

"Our chairmen voted unanimously to go along with the other unions" said Timothy Healey, president of the stationary firemen. "We are strongly of the opinion that many roads want a strike and that they believe a walkout will give them an opportunity to destroy the unions, but the men have voted and we cannot go against their wishes.

"We realize a railroad strike now would be bad for business generally. I sincerely trust it can be averted in such a way as not to injure the unions. The President and the government may still find a way to prevent the walkout andI think it is in their province to do so."

The telegraphers and the clerks also held meetings tonight but they were largely of a preliminary nature, final action being expected tomorrow or Sunday.

The telegraphers had planned to confer with B. M. Jewell, head of the shopcrafts tonight, but the meeting was postponed when it was learned Mr. Jewell's organizations had postponed action. It was said that the telegraphers' action would depend much on the attitude of the shopcrafts.

Supervision Unaffected.

In the absence of any indication that the administration was considering mandatory control of the railroads, action of the labor board in citing union heads and rail chiefs to appear before it, was interpreted here as showing that the board had received assurances from Washington that its supervision of the situation had been unaffected. The board's intention, as understood here, was to determine whether the brotherhood chiefs or the railroad executives, or both had not already contravened provisions of the transportation act.

In administrative circles it was reiterated that it was "still the labor board's affair." While the President had not been advised officially of the board's action at a late hour, it was understood he aproved the move.

Although definite decision against invocation of war time powers was reached today, no doubt was expressed in official quarters that adequate authority was existent and could be employed, should the period of negotiation prove fruitless. An amendment carried by the army appropriation bill of August 29, 1916 authorized the President specifically to take over transportation for the movement of troops, and to continue such control "in an emergency." Supplementing this authority, it was said were sections of the national defense act and other statutes. Department of Justice officials were understood to have prepared for the President a memorandum on the subject.

Should a situation arise necessitating reversion to war powers, or other methods of temporary government control, the war department would become the focal point, it was explained. The army already has its personnel listed by occupations and is ready to put some board trains and man its fleets of some 30,000 motor trucks.

Would Respond to Citation

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21.—Although the official order citing the railroad brotherhood chiefs and railroad executives to appear before the Railroad Labor Board Wednesday had not been received, local brotherhood executives tonight said they will respond to the citation.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen said:

"I am perfectly willing to recognize any order from the board or any other proper authority that will tend to prevent the strike."

W. S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said:

"I certainly will be there if ordered," adding that all the other chief executives of the railroad transportation organizations also "will go anywhere they are ordered to appear in connection with a settlement of the strike."

None of the local brotherhood chifs would make other comment on today's developments. Regarding the order to "maintain the status quo" insofar as it might affect the strike of trainmen on the International and Great Northern (Texas) scheduled to begin tomorrow noon, Mr. Lee's only comment was:

"I can answer tomorrow afternoon."

In connection with the assertion by the Labor Board that it has assumed jurisdiction over the dispute between the transportation organizations and the carriers over rules and working conditions, Mr. Lee tonight said that the board has notified him that it has ordered the Tremont and Gulf Railroad to withhold an order posted today abrogating all schedules between the company and members of the "big five" transportation organizations at six o'clock tonight.

Posting of the notice was transmitted to Mr. Lee today by the local chairman of the trainmen's organization. Mr. Lee said he at once notified the labor board and asked

RAILROAD MEN ARE ORDERED NOT TO STRIKE

Full Jurisdiction Is Assumed by Labor Board

General Conference to Avert Walkout Planned

whether the board would assume jurisdiction. The board replied, Mr. Lee said, that it had assumed jurisdiction and had notified the railroad to obey the law and to withhold enforcement of its order.

Mr. Lee tonight issued a statement outlining his position on alleged demands that teeth be put into the transportation act in which he asserted those making the demand should also demand a law for the "regulation of his own business that will establish the same relations between himself and his employes he demands for railroad employes."

Friday's Summary

Following are Friday's developments in the railroad strike situation:

CHICAGO—Labor board announces it has assumed jurisdiction in the rail crisis, orders workers not to walk out and cites union chiefs and railroad heads to appear before it October 26 for conference which board members said should avert a strike. Both announce they will appear for conference.

Maintenance of Way union, which has more than 375,000 members and stationary firemen, numbering 25,000 announce overwhelming strike votes and prepare for a walkout. Others of the eleven "standard" unions expect to announce their decisions tomorrow or Sunday.

Heads of roads entering Chicago discuss plans to combat strike.

Packers begin storing all available meat supplies in preparation for strike.

CLEVELAND—W. G. Lee, head of the trainmen's union, in a statement following labor board citation, asks by what authority anyone can compel a man to work, pointing out that the United States supreme court has upheld the right to strike.

WASHINGTON — Learned that possibility of President Harding exercising war time powers to run roads in case of strike was discussed officially but such action not yet contemplated.

SAN ANTONIO—Trainmen on the International and Great Northern prepare to carry out plans for walkout tomorrow despite labor board's pronouncement.

ST. LOUIS—Heads of southwestern lines announce everything legally possible will be done to operate roads if there is a strike.

HAZELTON, Pa.—Anthracite mines pushed at full speed in preparation for strike.

Dr. Brumfield in Dangerous Condition

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 21.—Dr. R. M. Brumfield, convicted slayer of Dennis Russell on whom the death sentence was to be pronounced tomorrow, was still in a dangerous condition today as the result of an attempt at suicide last night.

Dr. A. S. Sether said there is still danger of infection.

Not a trace of any implement by which two wounds, one on either side of the neck, might have been inflicted, could be found by searching officers until the dentist, in delirium, reached into his mouth and pulled out a bit of gold bridge work. The authorities believe that he extracted the bit of inlay, armed with metal edges, and hacked away with it at his throat.

Sheriff Starmer stated that in spite of the convicted man's weakened condition, it might be possible to take him into court for sentence tomorrow.

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment which helped me right away. I bought more, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Susan Dietsel, Wheat Basin, Montana, April 23, 1921.

Current of Lafayette, Sussex county, N. J., parents of 16 children, all shown in the photo above. The family refutes the theory that "race suicide" is eliminating old American stock. Two other children were born to the couple. One died at birth and the other at 15 from a fall.

HOMES RAZED IN TAFT FIRE

$12,000 Lost By Four Residents

Special to The Republican.

TAFT, Oct. 21.—Four houses on Second and San Emidio streets here were destroyed by fire starting at seven o'clock tonight, the loss totaling $12,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The houses were owned by Fred McCray, M. Morris, L. J. Powell and J. M. Barns. In addition to the houses a garage belonging to Morris was destroyed.

Other houses in the same block were damaged by fire and water among them being one owned by Fred Hyde which suffered to the extent of $500. The new $50,000 Conley school which occupied a site in the block escaped with only slight water and smoke damage.

At the time of the fire a high wind was blowing and the flames spread rapidly. The fire was in a district where the city had recently voted bonds to enlarge the water mains and the nearest hydrant which was available to fight the flames was approximately 1000 feet distant.

The amount of insurance carried is unknown.

Laura M'Nulty Wins Decree of Divorce

Special to The Republican.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—The divorce lexicon received a new term today when Mrs. Laura E. McNulty, wife of Hugh McNulty, Fresno contractor, told Judge Bernard J. Flood she had been driven from her husband's home by things of which she said his mother and aunt had been guilty. When Mrs. McNulty opened the piano to play, they would come by and close it, she said, and drove her out of the big house by such "pin pointed" conduct. She finally told her husband, she says, that she would live with him in a tent but not in that house.

She came here to live with her sister, Mrs. William Vollmer of 1277 Waller street. The McNultys were married in Arizona in 1911, and they separated last May. She was granted a decree, McNulty not appearing.

TESTIMONY IS REFUSED

Declines to Testify in Southard Case

SANTA ANA, Cal., Oct. 21—C. J. Crosby, operator of a motor stage line between Santa Ana and Huntington Beach, sought as a prosecution witness in the case against Mrs. Lyda Southard, who is on trial at Twin Falls, Idaho, charged with the murder of her fourth husband, said today that he would not go to Twin Falls owing to his failure to remember conditions concerning which his testimony was sought.

Crosby in 1915 was engaged in the undertaking business at Twin Falls and handled the body of Robert C. Dooley, a husband of Mrs. Lyda Southard. Testimony sought from him was concerning the nature of the embalming fluid he used. He explained to District Attorney A. F. Norton here that he could not remember the nature of the fluid, and therefore did not believe his testimony of sufficient value in the case to justify the expense of a trip to Twin Falls.

Unusual Libel Case Is Filed

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Oct. 21.—An unusual libel case, the result of a publication of a "human interest" story, ended in a jury decision for the Journal in the district court here last evening.

Edward P. Hansel sued for $50,000, following the appearance of the article in which his name was not mentioned. The defense maintained the story was of a type known as "heart interest stories" and was published with the view of procuring aid for a needy family.

GOVERNMENT ACTS

The notice given by the federal labor board to all parties concerned in the proposed railway strike to get together next Wednesday on an adjustment of the situation is a sign of strength in the national government that will gladden the country.

The board is not denying the right of people in general to strike nor of the railway employes to strike when necessary, but it is pointing out that a strike is not called for at this time. Solemn warning is given to the officers of the unions that they must not permit a strike at this time. For they have not used all the opportunity at their command to solve the situation without a strike.

We trust that this sign of strength on the part of the federal government will be followed by other indications of realizing responsibility.

There is a just method of arriving at a solution of this wage difficulty. That just method must be placed squarely before all the factors in the railroad business. It happens that under the ordinary procedure of government now, this method is split up between two different boards, the labor board and the interstate commerce commission. We can only count on a correct solution of these rail troubles through a cohesive action between both arms of the federal government, the rail managements and the rail workmen.

Too long, both sides of this railroad business have been petted by the government. As war measures, we have tolerated arbitrary action by the rail unions that should never have been tolerated. Equally, under the excuse of war necessity, we have tolerated a condition in which the railroads have been running along unbound by ordinary laws of business procedure and unmenaced by the ordinary consequences of business carelessness.

Now we are reaping the whirlwind. The two petted children of the nation are threatening to cut off the nation from its usual opportunities for transportation. And we are frightened pale. The nation that passed the Adamson law, raising the pay of workmen at the beginning of war, cannot take any steps, we are told, to reduce pay to a reasonable level in conformity with changing conditions, without a threat of country starvation. The nation that gave the railroads everything that they asked at the beginning of the war, in the way of government guarantees, cannot now compel prompt readjustment of rail rates.

This should have been sometime the occasion for firm action by the government, not dictatorial action but prompt action to make use of the powers of the government that both sides to this controversy have always acknowledged and have already made use of.

The great web of railroads of the United States is now being held together by the power and influence of the government. The very fact that these rail union heads have an organization to which they can give leadership is due to the organization and the laws and the financial assistance of the United States government. Let the officials of the government get together promptly, to adjust the relations of this great industry which the government has in fact made itself responsible for.

We are working under a national system of regulation. Let's really make it regulate.

We can't call it regulating, if the wheels stop going round, at the end of this month. And the wheels will not stop going round through any intention of the railroad workmen of the United States. It is the political problem, as set up by the rail managers and the union heads that is causing the present deadlock.

STATE BUILDINGS

The remarkable program for state building that has just been announced at Sacramento by Governor Stephens and the state board of control will be a welcome addition to the state's public works, as well as being a means of relief to crowded state activities and also of relief to the winter's working conditions.

We think that the value to the state will be in just this order. Just as we think the value to Fresno county of the county courthouse that we have does not consist primarily in the room that it affords to state offices, so we think that the possession of beautiful state buildings to primarily of value to this our California as a symbolical and artistic consideration first will not be approved by many. But just as we could, if we wished, live in less expensive and less attractive homes than we have, so we could get along with less expensive and less beautiful public buildings. But we don't want to. Pride makes them worth more, and a demand for beauty makes them worth more, and finally a demand that the existence of the state be expressed in the erection of fine buildings should warrant the additional expense.

Secondly there is the need for the proper functioning of state offices. We have pointed out already, the inaccuracy of many of the discussions about state expense. We have an expensive state because we demand an expensive state. We have given the state many things to do, that formerly were either not done at all, or were done privately at much greater expense. It is useless for us to create these state activities unless we give them the proper working tools and the proper housing.

And while we have sympathized with the demand that these state activities be taken, as far as practicable, directly to the people that are to be served, still it will be well for the state to group its buildings as far as possible at the state capital. Such buildings as armories and courthouses should be erected at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Fresno and elsewhere, but for the most part, the state activities should be carried on at one center. We long ago decided that Sacramento should be that center. So let's make it as fitting a center to our state as possible.

And finally, the discretion of the state should be used so as to make these building enterprises fit as conveniently as possible into public employment needs. We have urged the construction of county roads when the demand for labor was lightest elsewhere. So it should be with the state. The public works demand should not be thrust into the harvest season or into the spring planting season. It should go into the slack seasons, as a measure of public saving.

With the completion of our system of state highways, binding us so close together, our state capital can become more and more a public possession. It should be made worth going to see. And everyone should see it.

AGAIN CAPITALIST

If Lenine, the Russian dictator, should keep on learning political morals as fast as he has been doing in the last two years, he may before many years find himself in line with the careful political judgment of the rest of the world. The cynic might remark that by that time he would be sure to meet with the overthrow that he has been courting ever since his seizure of political power in Russia.

"Our problem," Lenine is quoted as saying, "is to make the future capitalism subject to the state, and serve it."

What more, in fact, could anyone ask? Of course capitalism should be made subject to the state and to serve it.

That is what we have been doing right along, in the United States, and in many parts of Europe. We have been making capital subject to the state and of service to the state.

Sometimes, in our effort to allow capital to grow freely, we may have given it too much freedom. Occasionally we have suppressed it too much. Capital, like other agencies, must be given a range of freedom in order to display initiative and in order to have room to make something for itself as well as for the state. But on the whole, capital is now the servant, sometimes the unwilling, sometimes the joyful servant of the state.

It is Lenine, not the rest of the world, that has changed point of view.

For Lenine has been the pinnacle of the effort to build up communism. He has had more personal force, more intellectual power than any other man who has practically attempted to put communism into force. And he has now failed. He admits that he has failed. He has failed because, in Russia, the people have refused to work for any one but themselves. They have refused to work for the commune.

The communist plan has had a wonderful opportunity in Russia. It is true that the war had reduced somewhat the store of capital that a commune would like to start out with. But on the other hand the war had afforded the commune a clean opportunity to go into operation untrammeled by vested interests. The czarist regime was thoroughly discredited. The constitutional democratic party was also discredited by the war. The socialist revolutionary party, the "mensheviki," were discredited by the overthrow of Kerensky. Lenine went into power with no opposition at home worth mentioning. It is true that there was bitter opposition to him abroad, partly composed of those who naturally would be bitter against a communist workwide program and partly those who resented the Lenine attempt to break down the opposition against Germany. But Lenine triumphed over all foreign opposition. He was able to rally, in the name of Russia, the main part of Russian citizenship, irrespective of classes, against either Kerensky or Korniloff or Denikine or Yudenich or Wrangel. The Russian soviet was apparently supreme at home and unthreatened abroad.

The Soviet has continued, but it has abandoned its communist movement. It has restored Russia to capitalism. It has found that the part of ordinary human relations which they have denounced as "capitalist" is that part of human incentive which all people demand as a reason for working. The Russian commune has so reduced the output of Russian society that it cannot any longer pretend to maintain itself.

The pretence of communism, which Lenine has maintained for the past year, has almost entirely disappeared. There is only a shell of consistency left. The people of Russia have shown that they wish every man to have a chance to keep an accounting between himself and the rest of society. This is "capitalism" of a proper sort.

Any other sort of capitalism should in the long run be repressed by the state. It should be watched, so that any evil tendencies can be at once recognized. When we find that masses of capital no longer work for the public good, but for evil, then they should be regulated, repressed. We do not need any capitalism but one that serves the public, and serves it well, through the use of private initiative.

You can't blame the pessimists when you reflect that everything promises to be hard this winter except the drinks.

The man who has neither training nor knowledge has little choice. He must do common labor, or get elected to Congress.

When you see a man with that complacent air of calm superiority, you can't tell whether he has religion or the daily bath habit.

When the population is dense, the people are poor; and the poor are notoriously efficient in keeping the population dense.

"The Rough Riders are going fast," says a magazine writer. Henry could obviate this by putting speedometers on the things.

The present situation affords considerable food for thought, if hash can be called food.

And then, a tariff wall keeps our American goods from being seized upon by cheap foreign money.

Whatever it is that afflicts Congress, it would be fine if our speed maniacs could catch it.

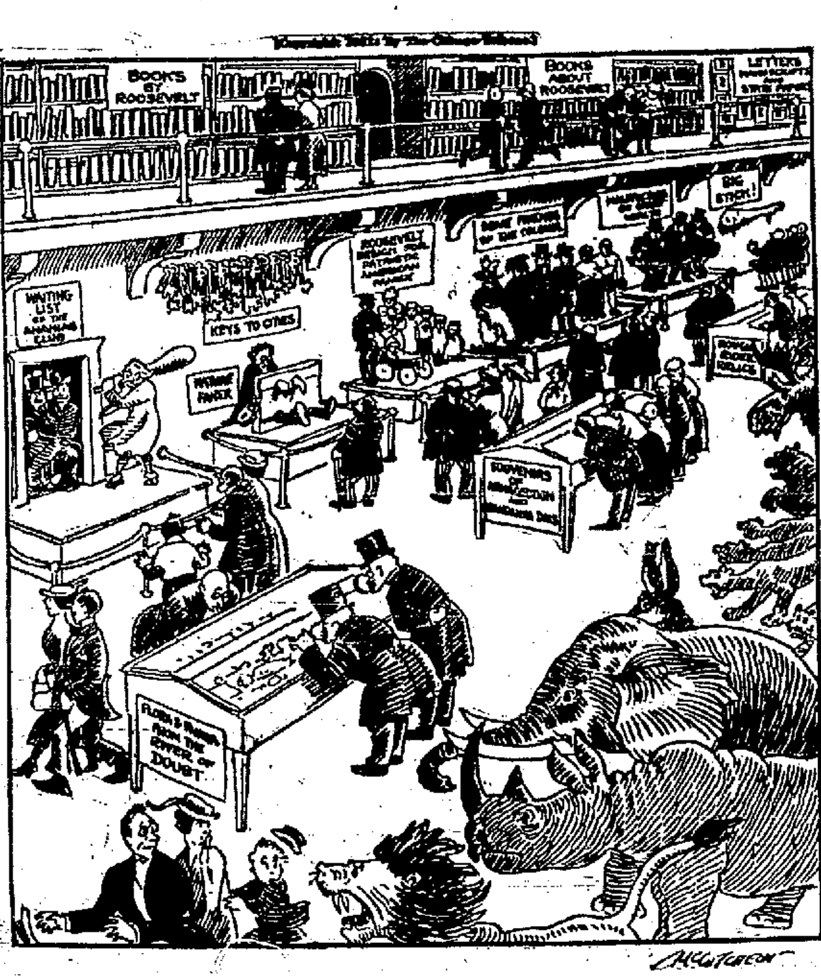
AUTOMOBILE WARNINGS

Turn On Lights

Driving without lights is a violation of the law of which very few autoists are guilty. Because the driver without lights would very certainly have to pay all damages in case of a collision with another car, very seldom does a driver take a chance of that kind.

Yet a very common oversight of many drivers is that of forgetting to turn on their lights before starting the car at night. As a result the driver frequently goes several blocks through traffic, until his attention is called to the absence of lights, or until he notices the oversight. In the meantime there is great danger to himself and to other drivers. Great care should be exercised on this point by every driver.

A ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL MUSEUM



TWO MOUTHFULS O' NOTHING

By Yir Frien' Scotty

Memories Gang Agley

Christian Mahaffy Ozias
Of Sunshineville
Has not always
Been a proud citizen
Of the Golden state.
Once upon a time
Ozy was a toddling wee lad
In Preble county
In the state of Ohio
On a farm
Owned in fee simple
By his early rising dad
And through which
Twin creek pursued
Its limpid passage.
There in that spot
Was born our hero
Of poor but honest parents—
Or at least
This should be so
To make a good tale,
And there our friend
Measled and mumped
And whooping-coughed
And sneaked off to bed
In the summer time
With dirty feet
And learned Golden texts
At the Sabbath school
And became an expert
In the art of angling
For red-horses
And bass and croppy
And common bull heads
In the famous Twin creek
That ran through
His sire's farm.
As the years ran on
And reason mounted its throne,
As the saying is,
He wafted him westward
To Sunshineville
And looked upon the law
And saw that it was good
And practiced at it,
And old memories of Twin creek
And the hungry red-horses
In that noble stream
Rose up to haunt him
Till he laid aside
A portion of his wealth
And went back there
This past summer,
And now you should hear him
Discourse about happenings
On the old homestead.
In the first place
Something had happened
To old Twin creek
And it now runs
On the adjoining farm
And that farmer
Has never realized
That C. Mahaffy Ozias
Has become a great man
Since he left home,
So he wouldn't let him fish
On the old creek
In its new location,
And another thing is
That the old time creek
Was a wide creek
And a very deep one
When Ozy fished in it
And went swimming in it
In the old old days,
But it seems to have shrunk
And grown thin
And very, very shallow,
And the present generation
Of the red-horses
Are sort of runty like—
While they were giants
In those old days.
The thoughts of youth
Are the bunk, says Ozias.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

Embarrassment

The man who is embarrassed usually makes a show of himself.

If he is called upon to speak, he gets up, opens his mouth, says a few inane words and sits down.

The company decides that he is a fool.

He may be. But whether he is or not, embarrassment will make him act like one.

Embarrassment prevents many people from making good impressions and good impressions are of the highest importance to them.

The able, intelligent, usually alert person who is embarrassed may appear silly and futile, while a very mediocre person who is self possessed may pass for a far more able person than he is.

Embarrassment is a social condition.

You are never embarrassed when alone. You are never embarrassed when among members of your family, or persons well known to you.

Embarrassment is due to fear of the opinion of other people—to a lack of confidence in your ability to convince them that you are of any particular importance.

Get rid of it, if you suffer from it, as soon as possible.

Get your mind off yourself, and what people may think of you, and get it on the subject you want to talk about.

Remember that whoever you may happen to be talking with is a human being like yourself.

If you have anything to say to him, say it briefly and as interestingly as you know how.

You may be impressed with his importance, if he is what you call a "big man," but don't be afraid of him.

In one respect we are a good deal like our neighbors the dumb animals.

We receive on equal terms the animal, whether human or quadruped, who is perfectly at ease in our presence.

If you suffer from embarrassment in the presence of strangers go oftener into the presence of strangers.

Habit makes all things second nature. Mix with people and you will learn not to be afraid of them.

Self consciousness is a dangerous state of mind. It hinders many careers.

It can be overcome with a little effort, and the effort is well worth putting forth.

Fresno's Yesterdays

Taken from the Files of the FRESNO REPUBLICAN

Forty Years Ago Today

Lemoore Notes.—The advent of the much dreaded small pox at Hanford, and the strict quarantine kept up has had a tendency to depress business very much, but as no new cases have developed themselves the scare will soon be over. In consequence of lack of warehouse room and cars for transportation, the farmers are obliged to pile their grain in the open air beside the railroad track. There are lively times among the sheepmen at present. Shearing is progressing lively. James Dickson, railroad agent at this place left for British Columbia recently. Sheriff Hall was in town this week. A. J. Foster, dentist at this place, died recently.

Twenty Years Ago Today

The antigambling ordinance was adopted at the meeting of the city trustees last night. This means that after January 1, 1902, when their licenses expire, all nickel in the slot machines will be abolished.

Ten Years Ago Today

Fresno's first class A office building is to be erected by Dr. Chester Rowell and a number of associates on the doctors property, corner of Tulare and K streets. The building will be six stories with basement, of steel frame and brick construction, with pressed brick surface and will cover the entire property area 150 on Tulare street and 75 feet on K street. It is estimated that the structure will cost about $20,000.

Having taken up the option for the Bullard tract of 7200 acre lying immediately north of Fresno and having completed arrangements for the establishment of an irrigation system on the tract, announcement is made by J. C. Forkner of this city that the development of this property will start at once.

OUR BOYS AT SCHOOL

From the Providence Journal

How much thought do the fathers of Providence give to their boys at school? The fathers go to their work every morning and come home tired at night. Meanwhile the boys have spent several hours in the schoolhouse, as busy in their way as their elders in theirs. What have they learned? What successes have they achieved? What failures have they suffered? Surely the fathers should be interested to know.

There is no use in expecting the teacher to do everything. We cannot shift the responsibility on her and let it go at that. She will do a good deal, but how much more she can do if the parent will take an intelligent and effective interest! "But," says father, "The teacher is paid to educate my boy. I am not a specialist. I have forgotten much of what I learned in school. And besides, I want my evenings to myself. If I spend them helping the boy, of what good is my home to me?"

That is a selfish and shortsighted view. A man who talks in such a way deliberately throws away one of the finest opportunities that will ever come to him—the opportunity of keeping in touch with the next generation, of making a mental and ethical impress on his own flesh and blood, of giving the boy a better chance to succeed when he gets out into the world. As for "spoiling" his evening, there is no more durable satisfaction than that which comes from sitting by one's own boy under the light of the evening lamp and helping him through his bookish difficulties.

To help John or Tom pegging away at his problems, renews a man's youth. It brushes up his own half-forgotten knowledge. There is, moreover, an advantage in learning about John's companions at school, in getting the juvenile point of view, in comparing the modern boy with the boy of our own day and generation. To discourage one's son from reporting at home the little tragedies and comedies of school hours is to shut one's self off from a fascinating realm of human adventure and aspiration. It means also that the father separates further and further from his son, and the son, of course, from the father. That is one of the most pathetic things in life.

Now that the long autumn evenings are upon us, let us resolve to devote some portion of them to seeking out the boy's difficulties and helping him to overcome them. No matter if there is a book of our own we wish to read, or a game we would rather play, or a social obligation outside our doors that calls us. There is nothing more important to us, after all, than the strengthening of the bonds of confidence and helpfulness between ourselves and our boys.

Philander C. Knox

From the New York Evening Post

The career of the late Senator Knox was a series of alternations between the Cabinet and the Senate. Other men have left the one post for the other, but no other man, in our recent history at least, has gone from Cabinet to Senate and back again. This fact is a measure of the regard in which his abilities were held by his associates. Three Presidents begged for his services. McKinley made him Attorney General, Roosevelt continued him in this position, and Taft elevated him to the place of Secretary of State.

Senator Knox was better fitted to be Attorney General than to manage our foreign relations. Neither by training nor by interest was he qualified to deal with international matters. He brought to their handling the narrow point of view of a legal advisor instead of the imagination of a statesman. His name as head of the State Department is associated with the policy of extending our foreign trade which has received the misleading title of "dollar diplomacy." Knox himself hailed the designation as one to be proud of. His limitations in the international sphere were displayed more recently in connection with the Treaty of Versailles. As one of the irreconcilables he helped to defeat that treaty and his legal acumen was called into requisition for the drafting of a peace resolution which should preserve for this country all the advantages of a treaty to which it had refused to be a party.

The fickleness of fame is manifested anew by the way it has dealt with Knox's activities as Attorney General. He is popularly remembered as the official who won the suit of the Government against the Northern Securities Company and the Beef Trust. These were notable achievements. More notable, however, was his letter to the chairmen of the House and Senate Committees on the Judiciary which led to the passage of a bill to expedite the determination of suits under the Anti-Trust and Interstate Commerce Acts and which also became the basis for the act creating the Department of Commerce and Labor with its Bureau of Corporations. Here again his unusual legal abilities were successfully employed in the solving of a most difficult problem.

Autocracy in Fashion

From the New York Evening Post

Just what the decree of longer skirts by Paris means in cold economic terms is being figured out by the statisticians. At least 20,000,000 American women will need an additional yard and a half of cloth; $26,000,000 more will flow into the textile mills, and 20,000 additional workers will be needed. But will the decree be so effective? There are rumors of a revolt. It is not the revolt of Edward Bok, who was declaiming in 1913 against the indecencies of Paris fashions; or the revolt of W. L. George, who argues for women's uniforms; or the revolt of the economists, who allege a senseless waste in the flicker of fashions. It is the revolt of the outdoor girl, the college girl, and the business woman, who have found short skirts an emancipation. They boast that they have nipped in the bud the Parisian plot to compel heavy corseting. They do not intend to sweep the pavements and hamper their feet with long skirts.

Paris could easily deny that there is anything autocratic in the net effect of its decrees. On the contrary, it can argue, the essence of democracy imbues them. The successive edicts guarantee justice to all. Some women do not look altogether right in long gowns, and some look altogether wrong in short skirts. It is fair to give both their innings. One year fashion decrees that every one shall be svelte, and the next that every one shall be buxom. There are those who shed angry tears when they find that waists are high; they can shed tears of joy when next year waists are low.

But this is a capricious kind of democracy, and the best defence of Paris is that a benevolent autocracy is necessary in fashion. Changeless designs would be a mark of intolerable stagnancy. Novelty is one of the major components of beauty in dress. It is necessary for the world to submit to some regularization of change, some definition of novelty. But the autocrats must not presume too far on their authority.

HIGH MARK IN MARRIAGES

From the New York Herald.

More than 1,000,000 marriages will be the record of 1921 in the United States, establishing a new high mark, according to indications in reports received by Government bureaus. The number may go as high as 1,500,000 by December 31.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

The Operation

When Uncle Ebenezer
Grew wobbly in his gait,
The doctors said, "He'll soon be dead
Unless we operate.
Your relative's condition
Is one that we deplore,
But still the knife will save his life
And make him young once more."

And so they plied their cleavers
With scientific art,
They cleft his hide and peeked inside
And took him all apart.
And Uncle Ebenezer
Quite quit of his disease,
Jumped out of bed and scratched his head
And took to climbing trees.

We find the dear old fellow
Has changed his habits now.
He loves to sway and swing all day
Upon a maple bough
And when a barrel organ
Came up the street one day,
To our surprise, with chattering cries,
He followed it away.

The doctors never told us
The nature of their cure,
They kept it dark with the remark
That it was safe and sure.
But from the way our uncle
Goes hopping to and fro
And tries to eat with both his feet
We sort of think we know.

Autumn Leaves

Henry B. Tierney in Kansas City Star.

In the fall of the year
Comes the fall of the tear
And all of them here
Are sad:
For the fall of the year
And the fall of the tear
Are the gall and the fear,—
Yea, the pall and the bier—
Of the dead.
Even the pang of sorrow
Leaves a thrill of joy;
There is a splendid beauty that escapes
Even the horror of the scene
When the fair virgin martyr,
Stript of wealth, honor and mantle,
Mingles her dying prayers
With the fierce animal rage
Of the bounding leopard
That crunches her tender bones
In his blood-dripping jaws.
There is a splendor
Even in somber widowhood;
There is, too, a mysterious,
Resplendent beauty
In the blush of the dying year—
When Nature strews the couch
With autumn leaves.

ULSTER WILL BE DISCUSSED

Sinn Fein Says Ireland Must Be Unit

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The most difficult problem facing the Irish conference—that of Ulster—will, it is understood, come up tomorrow before the full conference.

Sinn Fein delegates having finished their work on subcommittees with the British representatives have been busy today with their experts concluding their case. The Sinn Fein has maintained its determination not to agree to enter the British commonwealth unless Ireland is treated as a unit. An effort, therefore, is to be made from the governments's side to induce Ulster to consider some means by which, while preserving its local autonomy, it may form a part of the Irish state.

Ulsterites have resisted all appeals thus far, and the restlessness in Belfast is attributed in high quarters here to apprehension that the rank and file of the British representatives contemplate sacrificing them to the desire for an Irish settlement.

All information obtainable in authoritative quarters, however, points to strict adherence by Premier Lloyd George and his colleagues to their Ulster pledges. The opinion is expressed by many persons that it will be possible to construct some plan which, while apparently leaving Ulster untouched, will give such advantages to the south as to compel Ulster to make terms with the south.

There are some other persons to whom the difficulties seem insuperable, and many of them prophesy a speedy break in the negotiations on this issue.

Venizelos To Spend Honeymoon In U. S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Former Premier Venizelos of Greece, termed by his admirers, "the modern Ulysses," will arrive here tomorrow on the Aquitania with his bride for his American honeymoon.

The statesman married Miss Helena Schilizzi, many years his junior, in London, September 14. He announced before sailing that he intended to visit Washington, Chicago and California.

The commission arranged to purchase the materials and after installation and completion of the plant and inaugurating its operation, it will be turned over to the employes in order that they may administer its operation in order to provide food at a minimum cost.

Members of the Fresno Musical club were yesterday given an opportunity of getting acquainted with each other at the musical tea given at Hotel Fresno, this being the only informal affair which is featured during the year.

A large number of members and their friends gathered in the court of the hotel, where a delightful program was given. Miss Lorena James and Mrs. Al Pollack gave the opening numbers, singing the Flower duet from Madame Butterfly, and a number from the Fortune-Teller. Their voices blended beautifully in both of these beautiful numbers.

Mrs. Alfred Deyo, a new comer to Fresno, was heard by most of the audience for the first time, and her playing showed excellent teaching. Her contributions were Chant-Negre and Pierrot.

Miss Lorena James showed her versatility in music when she sang three exceptionally beautiful songs, each one of her own composing. Her voice is of lovely quality, and she used it with good effect. Though she was scheduled to play her own accompaniments, Mrs. Arch Jack did this for her. Her songs were entitled Night and Peace, Sky Lark, and Japanese Lullaby.

Dwight Maisbary, who has been in Fresno only a short time, is a decided acquisition to Fresno musical circles, as was evidenced by his piano numbers yesterday. His Brahms Waltz was wonderfully well executed, and the Country Gardens, by Percy Grainger, was also well given.

Tea was served in the banquet room, the table having for a centerpiece a French basket filled with long stemmed chrysanthemums and ferns. Candelabra holding candles in pastel colors was a very pretty addition to the table decorations. Mrs. J. Rollin Fitch and Mrs. R. G. Retallick poured tea, and a number of members on the hospitality committee assisted.

The first artist concert of the season's course will be Allen McQuhae, the Irish tenor, who will be heard at the White theater next Tuesday night.

Miss Bell T. Ritchie, president of the club, yesterday received the following telegram from the president of the Musical Club of Reno, Nevada: "Allen McQuhae drew continued enthusiastic applause from audience, filling every seat of Grand theater tonight. Despite recent indisposition, his voice was in splendid condition, his technique perfect. Musicians all agreed his performance most satisfactory ever heard here."

Mrs. W. L. Adams yesterday afternoon entertained at bridge, complimenting Mrs. Mattie Perkins, who is visiting here from Los Angeles. Five tables were arranged in the living rooms, which were simply decorated with chrysanthemums and roses. At the close of the games, Mrs. Perkins was given the prize for high score and also was given a guest prize. Delicious refreshments were served on table trays late in the afternoon.

Osborn Jr. will give an address on "Family Life in Japan," followed by Miss Elizabeth Peterson in a group of songs including: Sunbeams—Landow Ronald. By the Waters of Minnetonka—Thurlow Lieurance. Masquerade Ball Is Planned at College

A masquerade ball has been planned as the first social feature for the students of the State College of Fresno, according to an announcement made yesterday by Albert Chaddock, chairman of the arrangements committee. It will be held Wednesday night, October 26 at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium. The date was set for midweek so that the football men could attend, according to Chaddock.

The following are some of the rules laid down by the committee: any person coming to the ball without a costume will be assessed 25 cents. Students may bring one outsider as their partner. Entrance to the gymnasium will be made through the south door on that evening.

Elvira Bowker and William Peters are the other members of the committee.

Fresnans Attending Horticultural Show

Fresno is largely represented both on the program and in attendance at the California flower show and horticultural exposition being held at Los Angeles.

Committee reports will be made by William T. Kirkman, Jr., and M. H. Jackson. Commissioner Fiebut of the United States bureau of entomology will deliver an address on the mealy bug.

Round table discussion of legislation affecting agricultural cooperative movement in the state will be participated in by President Frank H. Wilson of the peach and fig growers association.

The sessions of the convention tomorrow will be attended by J. F. Niswander, general manager of the peach and fig growers. President Wylie M. Giffen of the raisin company has found it necessary to cancel plans for attending the convention.

Pentecostal Church to Erect Building

Permit was taken out yesterday by the Pentecostal church for the construction of a church building at the corner of Sacramento and E streets. The permit provides for the expenditure of $4,373 on the building. The equipment will run the total expenditure up to more than $5000, it is understood.

Court Postpones Sarkisian Hearing

Judge S. L. Strother yesterday postponed hearing of the accusation of the Fresno County Bar association charging Harry Sarkisian with conduct unbecoming an attorney until November 4. The continuance was granted on the grounds that Lindsay & Conley, attorneys in the action, are engaged on a murder trial. The bar association seeks the disbarment of Sarkisian.

Outline Plans For Christmas Seal Sale

Plans are rapidly being perfected at the headquarters of The California Tuberculosis association for the annual Christmas seal sale. Since California had its first organized sale in 1911 when a million seals were sold the sale has rapidly increased until last year twenty million were sold, said Edyth Tate-Thompson, secretary of the California association yesterday.

Enthusiastic meetings have been held this past week with the Placer County Tuberculosis association, the secretaries of the coast and San Joaquin county association all of whom have reported prospects of a record breaking sale. Seventy five percent of the proceeds remain in the community for local work and twenty five percent goes to the state association, which furnishes all supplies free to the locals besides sending them experts during the year to help with local problems.

Are Prices Lower?

YES---THEY ARE HERE

JUST WHAT BENEFIT does the retail shopping public derive from a cut in Wholesale prices? Do the stores cut their prices immediately or do they wait until they buy again at the new rate?

THE ANSWER DEPENDS ON THE STORE.

OUR POLICY WAS made public over a year ago. We announced then that we would give our customers immediate benefits of every drop in wholesale prices—that our entire stock would be kept on the basis of replacement cost.

AND WE HAVE DONE IT.

WILL CONDUCT SERVICES FOR FRESNO HERO

Legion to Have Charge of Jesse Bachant Funeral

Letter Telling of Lad's Bravery Received by Sister

Impressive funeral services will be held Sunday at 10 a. m. from the Civic auditorium for Jesse R. Bachant who died fighting in the Argonne Forest October 15, 1918. The remains arrived here from Hoboken on Thursday. The services will be in charge of Fresno Post No. 4 of the American Legion.

Jesse Bachant was a Fresno high school boy and manager of the Bachant ranch prior to his enlistment in the army. How the Fresno boy captured eleven Germans single-handed and brought them prisoners within the American lines, how he refused a commission as an officer while in the United States because it would have kept him out of action, and how he died bravely on the field of battle, his body full of machine gun bullets, are facts which young Bachant's buddies have written to the boy's relatives here.

Bachant enlisted here in September 1917, and was sent to Camp Kearny, where he remained for eleven months. He was sent to France, arriving there in July, 1918. An eyewitness to the lad's death, James A. Phillips, wrote the following letter to the boy's sister, Mrs. E. E. McFayden of El Paso, Texas:

"I received your letter some time back, in regards to your brother's death. I was with him at the time he was killed. We were in the Argonne front. We had advanced on the morning of October 15 and were digging ourselves in. He had put his shovel out on the back of the hole he was digging and had laid it where he could not reach it. He jumped up to get it. We were under machine gun fire and before he could get back, he was hit in the breast with a dozen or more bullets. I heard him groan and as soon as the fire checked, I went to him. It was only a short time after he was shot but he was dead. He fell into the hole he had dug and he was buried there.

"We were in four big battles together. I was platoon sergeant and he was my messenger and one of my closest friends. A braver and better soldier never lived or died than he."

Bachant was 24 years of age, having been born in Fresno March 10, 1894. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Minnie M. Bachant, two sisters, Mrs. E. E. McFayden of El Paso, and Mrs. G. L. Dodge of Fresno, a brother, A. B. Bachant of Kerman. His father D. L. Bachant died a short time ago.

Mrs. Arch Jack will furnish the music for the services at the auditorium. Legion members have been urged to turn out in full for the funeral of one of Fresno's greatest and bravest soldiers that has died on the field of battle.

CLAIMS FRESNO IS ADVERTISING COAST CENTER

Don Francisco Speaks at Meeting of Ad Club

Raisin Company Holds Attention Nation Wide

Don Francisco of Los Angeles, vice president of the Advertising club of the world and past president of the Los Angeles Advertising clubs was the principal speaker at the weekly Ad club luncheon held at the Hughes hotel yesterday at noon. His subject dealt with national advertising campaigns being directed principally at the raisin, citrus, olive and walnut industries.

That Fresno is the center of advertising on the Pacific coast and that this city possesses the largest single advertiser west of Chicago in the form of the California Associated Raisin company, was Francisco's assertion. The raisin association advertisements have reached a billion people in past year and 300,000 people have been employed as a result, Francisco said.

Explaining advertising, Francisco said, "The best definition for advertising that I know is that it is the art of stating the truth with the end in view of obtaining the confidence of the people so that the customers might be satisfied."

He pointed out the growth of the Advertising club of the world in their brief existence, stating that the association now numbered 213 clubs and 20,841 members. A total of 13 separate departments have been organized for the benefit of the members and the general advertising public. This includes the Better Business bureau which has done much in recent months to establish confidence in the merchant and which was followed by an attending increase in business.

Honesty is Demanded.

Referring to advertising, he said, "When advertising ceases to be believable, it ceases to be valuable. It is the voice of business and is like oxygen to the blood. However, advertising needs purification, and among the various bureaus fostered by the national association, one functions for the purpose of demanding honesty in each statement made.

"We also are getting up a course of retail selling and are out to help the retailer. Another course, which the association fosters, is an advertising course, which reduces the profession down to nearly a science. The advertising profession is linked up with the science of psychology, which gives us an intimate knowledge of our fellow human being."

Francisco paid President McIntosh of the Advertising club of the world much praise, stating that the national executive when elected had promised to visit each of the 213 clubs and to date had visited the larger proportion. He is to be in Fresno on the evening of December 9.

California, according to the speaker, is one of the best advertised states in the union. This is due to the fact of the national advertising campaign which have been instituted primarily by the large agricultural interests including the cooperative organizations such as the raisin association.

Referring to agriculture and giving a brief course on economics, Francisco stated that prices of agricultural products were not regulated by the increase or decrease of freight rates or wages or the price of land, but rather on the basis of supply and demand. If the demand can be made to increase, prices will accordingly soar.

Raisin Sales Increase.

The speaker stated that the California Fruit Growers with their numerous minor organizations could not sell 5,000 cars of fruit before they started to advertise. When the system was put into effect their sales rose and they are now selling 45,000 cars annually without trouble and getting the highest prices obtainable. He showed how the raisin association output was less than 140,000,000 pounds before 1914. When they started advertising the sales rose to 316,000,000 pounds in 1917.

"Advertising," he said, "will be the only thing that will save the olive industry. Recently, cases of poisoning and the consequent eight deaths have caused the sale of olives to fall off 60 per cent. Advertising the fact that the poison was not in the olives but in the container will bring the industry and output back to normal."

He praised the five cent package of raisin, stating that it was to be found in every part of the world and that every package here with it an advertisement of Fresno. He also praised Stanley Q. Grady, whom, he said, rated with the best advertising men in the country.

The meeting was presided over by William St. Sure of The Republican advertising department. Lloyd Chappell was sergeant at arms.

SALVAGE SHOP STILL SEEKING MORE CLOTHES

Red Cross Drive Is To Come to An End Tonight

Today Last Opportunity to Aid Work of Body

Just a few hours now until the closing of the Red Cross special collection week, and the shop needs every old piece of clothing in Fresno, shoes and odds and ends. Saturday is a good day to clean out the clothes closet and to wrap up in a bundle for the Red Cross. That old coat and [illegible] dress of little Helen's, the one she discarded two years ago and that has been laying on the top shelf all these months, and the old hat that and the flowers the family couldn't see. Wasn't it that piece of furniture on the back porch that you threatened to sell to the junk man? Remember those shoes that Brother Bob outgrew? Don't sell the things. Don't throw them out on the scrap heap. Don't let them take up room in your house when the articles, any articles, will do so much good at the Red Cross shop. You can either deliver the bundles to the store room at 1521 J street, or phone 315 to call for them.

The articles that you cast off are sold to those who need them and the money in return is used for the relief of others. The purpose, it is pointed out, is two-fold.

Today the kiddies who have helped so much during the last week in gathering bundles and in providing names of people with bundles to be called for, will enjoy the Saturday morning shows of the Liberty and Kinema. Parents may attend the performance this morning at the Kinema at the regular admission fee. Children without the coupons will pay 10 cents. The money will go to the Red Cross.

The Liberty features Mary Pickford in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" and the Kinema presents "Treasure Island."

Pleased With Plan For Preventorium

In a recent letter to the Parlor Lecture club tuberculosis committee, Dr. Phillip King Brown, state president of California Tuberculosis association, writes, "I am delighted to know you are proceeding with the idea of the preventorium which is the largest and most important need in the tuberculosis field in this state today."

With a plan for a preventorium for Fresno city and county in view, the Parlor Lecture club has worked in conjunction with the State Tuberculosis association in the sale of Christmas tuberculosis seals.

The share of money received by the club for these seals has been placed in a fund to further this work and it is now confidently hoped that actual building operations may soon be started. A site on the railroad above Auberry has been given by the board of supervisors, the water and sanitation have been passed upon favorably by the state board of sanitation, and plans for the building are being drafted by Messrs. Swartz and Ryland, who have donated their services.

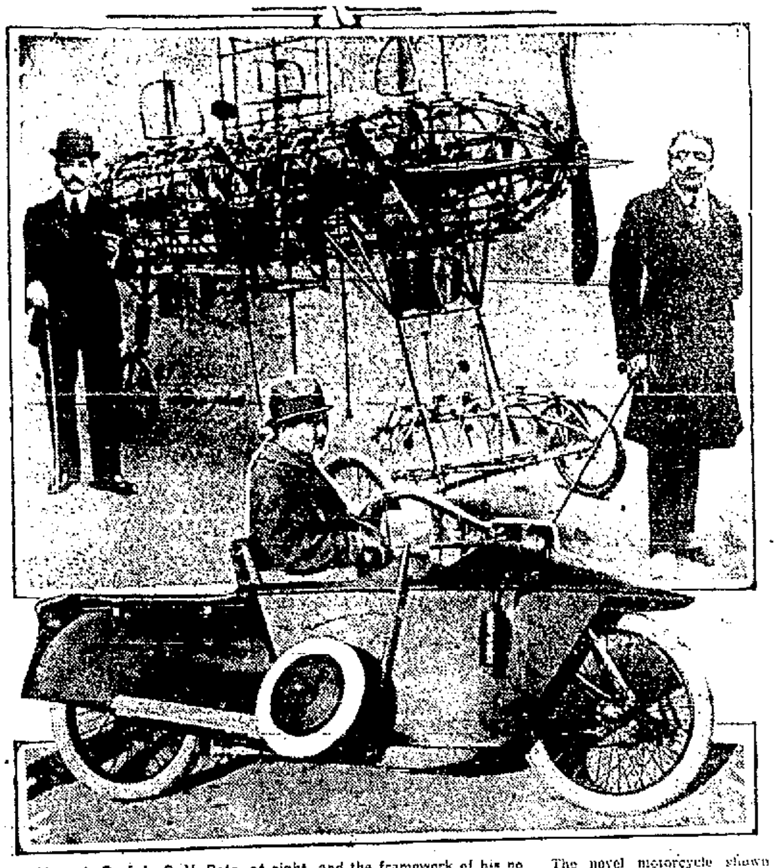
Plane to Revolutionize Flying



Above is Prof. L. G. V. Rota, at right, and the framework of his novel airplane. Note the several small propellers and electro-magnetic arrangements inside the frame. Below is the new type of motorcycle shown at the Berlin auto show.

Prof. L. G. V. Rota, eminent scientist, has constructed the framework of an airplane he believes will revolutionize flying. He asserts that by the use of Telluric or earth currents, which he has discovered, it is possible to overcome the laws of gravity. Electro magnetic arrangements are made for counteracting the attractive force of the earth, for overcoming the resistance of the air when the plane is in motion and for moving it in any direction independent of atmospheric conditions. He claims fall of the machine is prevented.

The novel motorcycle shown above is built so that the side car is eliminated—the extra passenger sitting in the body of the machine with the driver. Small wheels on each side prevent the machine from falling over on turns or when standing still.

SCOUT BUDGET PLANS ARE TO BE DISCUSSED

Commercial Club Will Be Told of the Campaign

$6000 Is Needed to Carry on Work of Fiscal Year

The need of the Fresno council, Boy Scouts of America, for assistance in raising the budget of $6000 for the fiscal year, will be presented to the Commercial club members at a luncheon to be held at the club next Thursday, according to an announcement yesterday by Scout Executive Henry Hopkins.

At this meeting, phases of scout work will be presented by Charles N. Miller, regional scout executive for the twelfth district and also by Dr. George W. Fisher, deputy scout executive and L. L. McDonald, national camp director.

According to Emil Gundelfinger, president of the Fresno council, Boy Scouts of America, the organization is in need of $6,000 to carry on the work for the fiscal year. During the history of the council here, three campaigns have been held for financial purposes and a little over $11,000 has been raised. Of these campaigns two were conducted by personal solicitation and the third was a letter campaign. Illustrating the fact that the Boy Scouts of America accomplish a great deal through a comparatively small amount of money, Gundelfinger points out that approximately $500 of the amount collected by the council has been used for permanent improvements at the Scout's summer camp at Bass Lake.

The conduct of the drive has been sponsored by three of the luncheon clubs of Fresno, the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubmen taking it upon themselves to aid in securing the desired quota. Each of these organizations has boy's work as an important part of its program and have voted indorsement of the drive with the added initiative of assisting in raising the quota. The Progressive Business Men's club has also indorsed the movement.

Club workers are now in the field securing money for the budget campaign.

MRS. HODGKIN'S WILL IS FILED

Later Documents Are Thrown Out

An instrument dated November 26, 1904, with codicil dated May 15, 1905, purporting to be the last will and testament of Eleanora I. Hodgkin was admitted to probate yesterday by Judge S. L. Strother. The instrument was filed by Fred S. Turnbull and Richard H. Hodgkin who asked to be appointed executors of the estate after Wilfred and Anita Hodgkin had renounced their right to act as such. The latter were named in the will as executors.

The matter came to hearing on October 14 and was continued until yesterday for testimony of proof. The will was holographic and was executed in all particulars as is required by law.

The value of the estate of Mrs. Hodgkin is $117,000, according to testimony. The executors named were required to furnish bonds in the sum of $[illegible] each.

It appeared to the court that wills dated May 1, 1919 and June 6, 1921, were made when the deceased was of unsound mind and not entirely mentally competent to make a last will and testament. It appeared to the court that the deceased was of unsound mind from February, 1918, until her death September 26, 1921, at Santa Clara.

The admission of the will to probate concluded and settled a series of contentions that arose since the death of Mrs. Hodgkin.

SEVEN CALLED FOR EVIDENCE IN WONG TRIAL

Prosecution Witness Tells of Finding Slain Man

Jury May Be Given Case Tuesday Night or Wednesday

Seven prosecution witnesses were examined yesterday at the trial of Wong Gim, accused of the murder of Ah Wah near Fowler on July 11. All of the testimony offered was in regards to footprints found near the scene of the crime, automobile tracks alleged to have been made by a car the defendant was driving and revolvers with which the crime was alleged to have been committed.

Captain J. L. Broad of the Fresno city police department, was the first witness to take the stand. It was for the purpose of cross examination. The next witness was John Magill, superintendent of the Fowler telephone company. Magill, court officials stated, is the best witness that has ever been interrogated in Fresno courts.

Magill testified that he was working on the E. E. Gatcomb ranch near Fowler where the murder was committed on July 11. He stated that he saw the body of Ah Wah a short time after the murder and called Constable John Ford in Fresno and also notified an undertaker.

Magill stated that he found footprints near the scene of the crime. He followed these footprints through a vineyard to Armstrong avenue where he saw tracks upon the road of a United States Royal cord tire. He stated that he followed the track of the tire as far as the corner of Armstrong avenue and Lincoln avenue where the automobile containing the defendant was wrecked. He testified that this automobile was equipped with United States cord tires.

Witness Amuses Court

He was subjected to a rigid cross-examination by defense attorneys who remarked as to his ability to identify this make of tire. He stated that he had had considerable experience with the tire and was familiar with the make and tread. Attorney W. M. Conley for the defense, remarked that Magill might have talked with other prosecution witnesses regarding his testimony. Magill admitted he had, stating that he was asked a question by Constable Ford. Conley asked what the question was and Magill replied, "Ford wanted to know if you asked me to tell you what my wife's maiden name was." With this reply, the entire audience in the courtroom burst out in laughter. It was impossible for Judge Beaumont to retain his dignity and was equally impossible for the bailiff to have order for a period of time.

Other witnesses called to the stand were Constable Ford, W. H. Winning, J. W. Ferk, J. S. Crawford and C. H. Morris.

Ford and Crawford corroborated Magill's testimony. They stated that they were present on the man hunt, tracing the footprints, the automobile tracks and finally coming upon the wrecked automobile containing the defendant.

Ford testified as to seeing the dead man and the foot prints. Morris, a neighbor of Gatcomb's testified that he saw an automobile of the same make as that occupied by the defendant standing near the Gatcomb ranch about the time the murder is alleged to have occurred.

All of the prosecution witnesses have remained unshaken and unimpeached in their testimony throughout the entire examinations.

Testimony Nearly Complete

District Attorney R. W. Gearhart, who is conducting the prosecution with the assistance of Assistant District Attorney H. J. Carling and Herbert McDowell, retained by the family of the murdered man, announced in court that but one more prosecution witness will be examined before the people rest. He stated that this testimony will be completed before adjournment at noon today.

The defense, which is being handled by W. M. Conley and Carl Lindsay, announced that they will likely complete their testimony by Tuesday and it is probable that the case will go to the jury either Tuesday night or Wednesday.

Ernest D. Chow, interpreter of the Lee Yick case, arrived from San Francisco yesterday. It is probable that a great deal of testimony for the defense will be given by Chinese. The defense has ordered five Chinese and three Japanese to be in court today ready to offer testimony.

COMPLETION OF ROAD IS URGED

Supervisors Receive Sanger Petition

The board of supervisors yesterday received a resolution from the city trustees at Sanger asking that the board complete the county highway work from Sanger by way of Centerville and Minkler to Clark's valley. The resolution states that funds for the work was apportioned in the 1919 bond issue.

The resolution asks that the board use all the means in their power to expedite completion.

It is the contention of Sanger's council that the United States government, chambers of commerce, civic organizations and governing bodies of several states are sending out an unlimited amount of propaganda urging that counties, cities and towns extend their best efforts toward the doing of public work, in order to relieve as far as possible in this manner the problem of unemployment.

The trustees point out that the importance of this link of highway is not questioned, but it is especially needed and necessary across the Kings' river bottoms between Centerville and Minkler. The council stated that building costs have already been reduced and that a further drop is not expected.

The communication was signed by M. W. Brown as chairman and Frank Niles as secretary of the Sanger council.

It was announced that the matter will be brought to the attention of the board at their next meeting on October 25. The board is not in session at the present time.

Armenian Daily to Appear January 1

The consolidation of The Nor Giank and Aror, two Armenian newspapers of Fresno into a paper which will start daily publication on January 1, was announced by L. H. Taddemian, business manager of the newspaper. The paper will be known as The Nor Giank Aror, and will be published three times a week until January 1.

The two consolidated papers have heretofore been publishing semi-weekly papers and have been representing two distinct political factions, but owing to the recent combining of the two political parties, the consolidation of the papers was made possible.

The daily paper to appear on January 1 will have a telegraph service of its own, it was announced. The office of publication will be located at 942 Broadway.

COOL WEATHER IS PREDICTED

Rain Is Expected Here Tonight

The hot spell which has prevailed over the interior portions of the state almost from the beginning of the month and in the coast sections during the last week has been broken by a cool wave which is now spreading southward over the state. During the last week day temperatures in this valley have averaged about 10 degrees above the normal while new maximum records for October were established on the coast and in Arizona, according to W. E. Bonnett, local weather observer.

So far the month has been in marked contrast with October last year which was abnormally cool and wetter than normal although the rain came after the bulk of the raisin crop had been safely harvested. This month has been ideal for that work and little of the crop remains spread out on the trays, and rain now would do little damage and would be quite generally welcomed, he said.

A barometric disturbance developed along the Sierras during Friday and this will result in unsettled cloudy weather in this section Saturday with a probability of rain by night. Up to 5 p. m. Friday no rain has fallen in the state but general cloudiness prevailed in northern California and Nevada.

WAGON WHEEL CRUSHES CHILD

Tulare Girl Is Thought Internally Hurt

TULARE, Oct. 21—As a result of being run over by a wagon which her father was driving, Eleanor Hinds, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hinds, who reside on a ranch east of Tulare, was severely crushed and bruised about 9 o'clock this morning.

The little girl was out in the field with her father who was loading melons as he started to move the wagon forward he noticed his daughter run around the rear of the vehicle. When he stopped the wagon and got off he noticed the wheel of the wagon resting on her body.

Local physicians paid a hurried visit to the Hinds home and rendered surgical aid. No bones were broken though it is feared internal injuries may develop.

AUTOS CRASH NEAR MALAGA

Two Women and One Man Are Injured

Special to The Republican.

MALAGA, Oct. 21—Two women and one man were injured when two cars collided at the intersection of Clovis and Washington avenues near here shortly after six o'clock this afternoon. One of the cars was driven by Paulo Kamirer of Fowler and the other by Rex McClain. The latter car was the property of C. A. Purke of 107 Broadway, Fresno. Both cars were badly damaged.

The Kamirer car was occupied by six Mexicans, all members of the Kamirer family. One of the women sustained a broken shoulder, another was injured about the head and a man suffered head and back injuries. The injured were taken to their home in Fowler.

Madera to Install Some Water Meters

MADERA, Oct. 21.—An ordinance is to be drawn up and presented to the city trustees whereby water meters will be used in certain cases. It is not the intention of the trustees to install meters all over town but to regulate the use of water.

Under the ordinance meters will be installed where ever in the opinion of the board, they are necessary. It has been found that in some instances, in industrial use, water is being wasted to a great extent. It would be impossible for the city, to install meters all over town because of excessive costs.

Devenney, supplying water for domestic purposes in the town of Wasco, was ordered by the Railroad Commission today to refund to consumers up to November 1 the unauthorized increase of 50 cents a month. Pastor Eats Fried Chicken While Hen House Is Robbed

TAFT, Oct. 21.—To attend a reception for another pastor in a nearby city, partake of fried chicken of the yellow leg variety, and then return home to find that some miscreant had appropriated a dozen plump chickens from his poultry yard, was the experience of Rev. M. M. Bledsoe of the Taft Baptist church.

The serving of fried chicken at the reception of a fellow pastor and Rev. Bledsoe's loss are merely incidental to the story, as the local pastor has an abiding faith in the pastorate. But the fact remains that some time during the night of the reception a thief cut the wire chicken fence at the Bledsoe home and carried away 12 fat hens.

OFFICER URGES VACCINATION

Smallpox at Modesto Increases

Special to The Republican.

MODESTO, Oct. 21— Vaccination of all school students, although not compulsory, was urged today by City Health Officer Dr. J. W. Morgan, following discovery of the third case of smallpox in as many weeks in the Modesto high school. While there is no law compelling school children to become vaccinated, city health departments throughout the state are meeting with success in appeals for voluntary vaccination, because of the outbreaks of various types of contagious disease.

The first case of smallpox noted in Modesto in recent years was discovered in the high school three weeks ago. A second was found in the junior college ten days ago and a third developed yesterday in the high school, Dr. Morgan said today. The student quarantined yesterday undoubtedly had exposed several hundred students, he added.

Bakersfield Schools Make Improvements

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 21.—The second grade of the Lowell school, which, owing to the overcrowded condition of the school, has been holding forth in the basement, was moved to the first floor this week, to the great satisfaction of pupils and teacher. It was necessary to move the lunch room to the basement in order to make room for the class in the better lighted and aired upper story.

The pupils of the Emerson school will soon have a much larger play space than heretofore. At the beginning of the school term the block to the east of the school was purchased by the board of education to be used as a play ground. However, the games of the youngsters have been much interfered with because of the presence of many lighting and telephone poles on the lot. As the wires are now to be carried into the school from a different direction, the poles will soon be removed, leaving a free field for football or baseball games.

Tulare County May Buy Land Near Park

VISALIA, Oct. 21.—With at least two of the five supervisors strongly in its favor, one other practically convinced and two viewing the proposition more or less favorably there seem to be excellent chances of the county of Tulare agreeing to purchase the 200 odd acres surrounding Mooney Grove, the county park, as proposed by the Parker and Mooney interests.

The proposition, advanced by the Tulare County Forestry board last month, came before the supervisors again yesterday and was discussed at considerable length. The county cannot buy this year but inasmuch as it is understood no cash is required at present, as the owners of the land are interested only in the interest, the discussion took a very favorable turn and will again be taken up November 1.

The New Way to End Corns

The Scientific Method
Easy, Gentle, Quick and Sure

A famous chemist, some years ago, discovered a way to end corns. A surgical dressing house of world-wide repute adopted and produced it.

Millions of people use this instant relief and quickly rid themselves of throbbing corns.

The method is Blue-jay—liquid or plaster. One applies it by a touch. The pain stops instantly, and the whole corn quickly loosens and comes out.

Old, harsh methods are supplanted by it. So with corn pads, so with paring. All such ways are folly.

Try Blue-jay on one corn now and see. You will be delighted.

ROB SAFE AT BAKERSFIELD

Merchant Is Held Up By Two Men

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 21.—At the point of a revolver, Wick Lee, a merchant doing business at 1313 Twentieth street Old Chinatown, was forced to open his safe and hand over $120 in money to a pair of roughly dressed men, who escaped after perpetrating the holdup. Lee reported the robbers to Officer A. M. Dean, who informed headquarters and conducted an investigation.

Lee told the police that the two men had entered the store ostensibly for the purpose of making a purchase, but suddenly one of them whipped out an old nickle plated revolver and brandished it menacingly at his head. The man with the gun demanded all his money and made him open the safe, Lee stated.

The man with the gun is described as being five feet, six inches tall and 30 years of age, dressed in a soiled blue suit and wearing a small black hat.

The second bandit was six feet in height, between 35 and 40 years of age, dressed in a dark grey coat and worn khaki trousers, according to Lee, who furnished both descriptions.

SOLONS ALLOW TRAVEL MONEY

School Board Members to Have Fares Paid

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 21—The Kern county board of supervisors by a majority of 3 to 2 has voted to allow members of the county board of education 16 cents a mile one way for travelling expenses when coming to Bakersfield to attend meetings. Members of the education board reside in towns removed from this city a score or more miles. A motion by Supervisor Ira Williams to give the board of education members "actual necessary expenses," as are allowed the supervisors under the law, was lost by a vote of 3 to 2.

Pending the checking up of acreages represented in protests against plans and specifications for road improvement district No. 15, the board is continuing with procedure to construct a highway of six-inch cement, 15 feet wide, from McKittrick to Reward. Twenty nine oil companies protested against this type of highway, requesting that the board call for plans and specifications for an asphalt base structure, which could be laid at an approximate cost of $35,000 a mile, whereas the cement highway will cost approximately $60,000 a mile.

The oil companies which will be taxed to pay for the new highway are the heaviest users of the road, and they appealed to the board to use the more economical type of paving. Being producers of materials used in asphalt paving, the oil companies said that in the interests of home industry they should be given the consideration of which they asked in the appeal for asphalt paving of the McKittrick Reward highway. The saving in cost of almost 50 per cent was emphasized in the protests.

The boundaries of the road improvement district were changed to eliminate properties of Miller & Lux and other agricultural holders whose land is assessed five times higher than the remainder of that in the district, it was shown. The proposed new highway will be approximately six miles long.

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY SOCIETY

CLUB AT PORTERVILLE TO ENTERTAIN

The first "ladies' night" of the Porterville Rotary club will be held the evening of Oct. 26, according to an announcement by Secretary Boyd Kreider. In addition to the entertainment features of the evening, there will be a banquet and dancing. The affair will be held in Davis hall, and a large number of visiting Rotarians are expected from Fresno and Bakersfield.

The meeting of the local club will be marked by the most important event in its brief history, when the Fresno club presents them with their charter. Last summer it would have been possible for the club to have held their first "ladies' night" and to have received their charter, but it was thought best to wait until the passing of the hot weather. Hence the Porterville Rotarians have been running to date without a charter.

Arrangements have been made by the entertainment committee with the ladies of the First Christian church to serve the banquet.

The Porterville Rotary club now has a membership of twenty-five, with a number of applications for membership pending. With the charter in the hands of the club, is thought that the growth will be rapid. As the membership in the Rotarians is limited by the classification in business and professional life, it is not believed that the local club will number more than 60 eligibles.

State College Eleven Has Even Break in Game Today With California Tech Team

Experience Gained in Contest Against Pacific Tigers Expected to Show Results This Afternoon

PROFITING by the lessons learned in the game with the College of the Pacific last week, the State College of Fresno eleven will have an even break and a chance to win when they go up against the strong California Tech eleven this afternoon on the Speedway field. This was the prediction offered by Coach Bob Hastings last night after he had sent his squad through the last signal practice in preparation for today's game. The game will be called at 2:30.

California Tech has one of the strongest small college elevens in southern Californa. If the Fresno team can win this afternoon, Coach Hastings will have performed a task that would make most coaches throw up their hands in despair, that of turning out a winning eleven in one year from raw and inexperienced material.

Only a few of the state college players have had previous experience in football and none of them have had college football training. When Hastings took charge of the eleven a few weeks ago he had nothing to work on except a group of huskies who had had the football spirit in their veins. But this spirit and the desire to turn out a winning team for the state college in its first year of its existence has born good fruit, and today the Fresno eleven plays like a team that had been raised in mole skins and head gears.

Everyman on the stae college team is enthusiastic about football. The entire squad has shown a willingness to give the best they have to the game, even at a personal sacrifice to themselves. Strict observance of training rules and three hours of hard practice a day shown such good results that every student in the college is now enthusiastic about the team and its possiblites.

Both teams are about evenly matched today as to weight, but the Tech eleven has an advantage of experience. California Tech, formerly known as Troop college, has turned out football teams during the past few years that have made a reputation everywhere they played. Coach Staunton, who has charge of the southern California team, is a former Occidental and Pomona star, and coached the Camp Lewis team during the war. Under his coaching the southerners have developed many stars. They will take the field today averaging about 162 pounds to the players, about 2 pounds more than the average of the Fresno team.

Incidentally today's game will be the first game between two college elevens that has ever been played in Fresno. It should be the forerunner of a series of first class intercollegiate contests in Fresno. As the new state college grows it is expected to draw many of the San Joaquin Valley high school football stars and in the course of two or three years should be able to develop a team able to meet some of the strongest elevens on the coast.

Coach Hastings announced the line-up of the two teams last night as follows:

Fresno—W. Hunkins, center; Storm and Robinson, guards; Foster and Wilson, tackles; Enlow and Goree, ends; Paulson, quarter; Ferrera and Greeley, halves, and Kazarian, full.

Substitutes Broder, quarter; R. Hunkins, full; Larson, Donahue and Mustoe, halves; Neilsen and Wilson, tackle; Walker and Ewers, ends; Walling and Mayer, center; Tellonicher, Faparian and Hill, guards.

California Tech. — Squires and Adams, ends; Weisel and Gilbert, tackles; Hastings and Blakeley, guards; Clever, center; Thomas, the captain of the team, quarter; Preston, full, and Watson and McKean, halves.

Substitutes—Moody, end; Woods, full; Thompson, guard and Howard, half.

* * * *

SOME of the pent up enthusiasm over the game today was let loose last night when the state college students staged a football rally on the streets of Fresno. Yesterday morning a student assembly and rally was held at the college. President McLain, Coach Hastings and several student leaders spoke to the students and outlined the prospects for today's game.

Plans for entertaining the visiting team and their rooters assumed definite shape last night. A dance in their honor will be held in the state college auditorium this evening.

CRUCIAL GAMES FOR COLLEGE TEAMS

FRESNO PLAYERS ON BEARS' LINEUP

SELMA HIGH PLAYS STANFORD 'BABES'

WITH intercollegiate elevens playing the first crucial games on their schedule today football players from Seattle to Los Angeles are on their toes ready to give the best they have in this afternoon's contests, while grid fans and dopesters are sharpening up their pencils and getting ready to predict a college champion. Practically every eleven on the Pacific Coast found its early season weaknesses during the past three weeks and has spent this week plugging up the holes and smoothing off the rough spots in teamwork. As a result today's games will be the first real test of strength for the various elevens.

Several new angles in the intercollegiate football situation have developed this week. Over at Berkeley Coach Andy Smith's "wonder eleven" has been literally shot to pieces with injuries. No less than six of Bear's first string men have been the atching practice this week from the side lines and several of these have come onto the field on crutches with injuries serious enough to keep them out of the game for the rest of the season.

The University of Southern California and the University of Oregon have come into the limelight with teams that look strong enough to defeat last year's champions.

Interest today will center principally around two games, one at Palo Alto, the other at Berkeley. Van Gent's Cardinal team will get a real test when it bucks the Pacific fleet eleven which last week scored on California in a 21 to 10 game. At Berkeley Andy Smith will have to depend on second string men to defeat the strong Oregon eleven who have made the trip south with but one though in mind, "Best California."

* * * *

THAT expression, "Best California", seems to be the slogan of every college eleven on the coast this year, and in view of the present condition of the Bears' team it would not be surprising to see some of these teams run up a winning score on the Blue and Gold eleven.

With every team on the coast out gaming for the Bears, Smith has a real coaching problem before him. The "big game" with Stanford on November 19 is unquestionably the most important game on the California schedule. Smith must win this game at any cost. He must train his team so as to bring it at its height of perfection on the Saturday before Thanksgiving. But every other team has been coached with the idea of being at its height on the day of its game with California. The California team while using early season tactics must buck the rest of the conference elevens at their best.

Coach "Shy Huntington" is bringing a strong eleven to Berkeley today. The Oregon team showed that it had a real lineup last Saturday when it played the strong Idaho combination to a 7 to 7 tie. The outcome of today's game will show whether Andy Smith's second string men are as good as his first varsity players, if they are, California still has a chance to hold its place this year as the strongest eleven in the United States.

* * * *

STANFORD will get a real line on its strength today, when the Cards buck "Wild Bill" Ingram's Pacific Fleet eleven. After the California game last week there was no doubt as to the fleet team's strength. If Stanford can win today it will mean that the Cardinals will be the feared opponent of every eleven on the coast.

Stanford also got hit hard this week with injuries and two of the Cardinal stars will be unable to start in game against the Pacific Fleet. Joe Douglas, right guard on Van Gent's eleven is under trainer "Dad" Moulton's supervision with several torn ligaments in his shoulder. Heiser, who played tackle in the first two games is out of the scrimmage for the balance of the season with an attack of pleurisy.

* * * *

SELMA high school will get a chance to show off its strength against college competition this afternoon when the valley boys tackle the Stanford freshmen as a curtain raiser to the Pacific Fleet contest.

Most of the Selma players have been raised on a diet of football and play a fast game as the result of the several year's experience together. They should give Coach Seay's Cardinal "babes" a hard fight.

* * * *

ANOTHER intercollegiate game that is attracting attention today is the contest between Oregon Aggies and their old rivals the University of Washington. Both of these teams appear evenly matched and should put up a good game.

St. Mary's is scheduled to meet the Mare Island Marines this afternoon, while two of the leading club teams on the coast will be seen in action tomorrow when the Olympic Club eleven plays the Multnomah Athletic club of Portland on Ewing field.

* * * *

FRESNO high school has been contributing its share of material to the University of California team the last two years. This season, "Lee" Cranmer and "Crip" Toomey, two Fresno players, have shown up as stars in early season games.

In speaking of Cranmer the Daily California prints the following:

"'Lee' Cranmer, '22, played four years with the Fresno high school aggregation, and when he came to California he played on the frosh team. He has been playing along ever since, and is now well started on his third year on the varsity squad.

"Cranmer is one of the strongest guards California has ever had and the opponents rarely go through him. 'Lee' does not confine himself to one activity. He made his circle 'C' on the varsity polo team and holds the position of captain in the R. O. T. C. unit. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 198 pounds. He is 23 years old."

"Crip" Toomey will not play in the game against Oregon today. He tried to enter the Pacific fleet game last week with an injured ankle, but after scoring the Bear's first touchdown was forced out with still more serious injuries. He will probably not be used again until the Stanford game unless his ankle completely recovers.

* * * *

A UNIQUE situation developed at Berkeley this week, when it was announced that Plowden Scott, an old time Stanford quarterback and prominent San Francisco business man, would referee the Oregon game. This is probably the first time that a Stanford man has been called on to make the decisions in a game for the Blue and Gold team.

* * * *

MR. GENERAL PUBLIC will not have much of a chance to see the "big game" between Stanford and California this year in spite of the 63,000 seating capacity of the new Stanford stadium. Last year 62,000 applications were received for the big game and it is estimated that twice as many people will want to see it this year.

The following method of distribution of tickets has been announced from both institutions:

First call will be given students who will be allowed one seat in the rooting sections. Stanford and California Stadium fund subscribers, according to the agreement of their subscriptions will get next call. Then alumni will have a chance for six tickets each, and students follow them with an option on four tickets outside their rooting section seat.

Ex-students and alumni, not connected with the alumni associations are next on the list and if any seats are left after this they will be put on sale to the general public.

HAWTHORNE SCHOOL WINS

Hawthorne school soccer players today won from the Emerson boys in a closely contested soccer game on Holmes field by a score of 1 to 0. The two teams played a tie game about a week ago, and this game was played to decide the winner. The game was in the Playground league soccer schedule.

SELMA TO PLAY STANFORD BABES AT PALO ALTO

Special to The Republican

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 21.—Dufty Seay's Stanford freshmen, in perfect condition and full of fight, are prepared for a hard battle with Selma High when the two elevens clash this afternoon on Stanford gridiron. The Selma team arrived here last night and were taken to fraternity houses and clubs on the campus.

Seay realizes that in Selma High the "Babes" are going up against fast, tricky players, with a good knowledge of the American game. He has spent most of the week drilling his men in defense against forward passes, trick plays and in improving tackling. The freshman team, composed of high school stars, is coming on fast, and have pierced the second varsity line almost at will in scrimmages durig the week.

Cuddeback, the big freshman fullback, goes through the second varsity continually for gains of ten yards, running so low his face almost scrapes the ground.

The Cardinal line is unusually heavy for a first year team, averaging 175 pounds. In Dole and Shipke, Seay has a pair of tackles hard to get through. Vanhook, center, is the lightest man on the line, but plays a roving game somewhat like Swede Richler, last year's Stanford center. The game looks like it will be a contest between the straight football of the freshmen and the science of the high school boys. With Cuddeback averaging 55 yards on kicks, Dennis, freshman quarterback and captain, will probably order a kicking game. The freshman team will line up as follows: Janssen, left end; Shipke, left tackle; Neill, left guard; Vanhook, center; Crook, right guard; Dole, right tackle; Middlefront, Dennis, quarterback; Gilliland, left half; Howard, right half; Cuddeback, fullback.

MODESTO HIGH TO PLAY FIRST LEAGUE GAME

MODESTO, Oct. 21.—The first American football game of the northern branch of the central section of the California Interscholastic Federation, of which the Modesto High school is a member, will be played on the local field tomorrow afternoon, when the Red and Black eleven tackle the Patterson High school team.

Although Coach Schuster does not predict any trouble in winning over the Patterson lads, he does predict his team has a hard schedule ahead of them to win the championship of the county, which will entitle them to a chance at the central section title, and later the state championship.

Both the Ceres and Turlock high schools are grooming elevens with a view of defeating the local team. The Turlock school has been playing the American game for the last two years, and only last Friday were held to a 14 to 7 game with the Ceres team, which speaks well for the ability of the Ceres eleven.

The players to start tomorrow will in all probability be: Fleming, right end; Gerkin, right tackle; Ellis, right guard; Knowles, center; Corson, left guard; Golson, left tackle; DeMartini, left end; Corley, quarterback; Spencer, right half; Strader, left half; Cardwell, fullback.

LANGER APPLIES RECOGNITION OF WORLD'S RECORD

ALAMEDA, Cal., Oct. 21.—Claims for a new world's record in the 500-meter swim will be made to the international record committee for Ludy Langer, former University of California star, who last Sunday swam the distance in 6 minutes, 48 and 2-5 seconds here.

At present the recognized record, held by Norman Ross, is 6 minutes, 55 and 4-5 seconds. Pending before the record committee is a mark of 6 minutes, 49 and 3-5 seconds, made by Ernie Berg of Sweden.

USE MOVIES TO TRAIN GRID MEN

BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 21. — Slow speed football motion pictures have been adopted by Head Coach Andy Smith of the University of California here as a part of the varsity training course. Players in the various rudiments of the game have been filmed and the pictures are being displayed on the screen while members of the squad look on and study the methods used.

SPRINTER MAY TRY BASEBALL

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 21.—Vern Blenkiron, University of Southern California sprint star, is considering joining the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast Baseball league next season. Blenkiron recently dropped his work at the university here, much to the regret of the track coach, Dean Cromwell, who had expected him to take the place of Charles W. Paddock, U. S. C. world record holder in the sprints.

CANCELS GAME WITH Y. M. C. A

Word was received here last night from the Chowchilla basketball team, which was scheduled to play the Fresno Y. M. C. A. here tonight, that it would be impossible for their team to play the game as scheduled. An indefinite postponement of the game was announced last night by G. D. Long, of the local Y. M. C. A. The game will probably be played next Saturday, Long stated, but a definite date will not be agreed upon until the first of next week.

Rum Running In Canada Reduced

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 — Rum running on the Canadian border has been reduced almost fifty per cent, it was announced tonight by prohibition headquarters after a conference of C. M. Graves, federal prohibition director of Vermont, with Commissioner Haynes. The improved situation was said to have been attributed by Mr. Graves to cooperation by Canadian officials.

This is the way the center of the Fresno Legion line looks to the opposing team. The players: Danielson, r. g.; Oliver, q.; Johnson, c.; Eaton, l. g.

MADERA HIGH LOSES TO SUPERIOR PLAYING OF BLEWETT'S ELEVEN

Tech High Plays Good Football With Sanger But Loses to Opponents By a 20 to 0 Score

Fresno high school eleven showed their superiority again yesterday, and stepped up another notch in their fight for the championship of the valley, when playing true to form, they whitewashed the Madera high eleven and came out on the long end of a 52 to 0 score. Madera was reported to be at its best in the game yesterday but was entirely too weak to hold the rushes of Coach Blewett's line and plunging backs.

With Madera safely out of the way, the Fresno eleven now has a line on its comparative strength with the Selma team, which is expected to give the local boys the hardest fight for valley honors. Selma defeated Madera by an even larger score than Fresno, but played at a time when the Madera eleven was badly crippled with injuries. Madera was at its best yesterday and comparative scores of the two games indicate that both teams will be evenly matched for the Fresno-Selma contest.

Madera made a desperate effort yesterday to hold the Fresno team down in the first quarter, and as a result Fresno only scored one touchdown in this part of the game. The Fresno boys cut loose in the second quarter as the Madera interference weakened and scored three touchdowns.

Another touchdown in the third quarter and three in the fourth brought the final score up to 52 to 0. Fresno kicked four goals and missed four.

Peterson and Moore did good work for Fresno in intercepting Madera's forward passes and carrying them for substantial gains. Wright and Serpa showed up well in the backfield. Captain Niswander was the individual star of the game, carrying the ball across the line for the majority of the touchdowns. The Fresno backfield worked to perfection yesterday and repeatedly found holes in the Madera line for 15 and 20 yard gains.

For Madera Deckane, Creighton and Dickey showed real football ability and did some good work in preventing the Fresno team from rolling up an even higher score.

The lineup in yesterday's game was as follows:

Fresno	Position	Madera
Smith	left end	Anderson
Peterson	left guard	Carroll
Hayes	left tackle	Hope
Hastings	center	Creighton
Stanley	right guard	Levan
Hansen	right tackle	Woods
Moore	right end	Dechane
Serpa	quarterback	Dickey
Wright	right half	Warner
Marshall	full back	Carpenter

Substitutes for Fresno—Newman for Stanley; Johnson for Hayes; Rennels for Smith; Coats for Marshall; Marshall for Coats; Coats for Wright; Aten for Serpa.

Sanger Defeats Tech 20 to 0

Playing the best football they have shown this season, the Fresno Technical high school eleven went down to defeat yesterday at the hands of the stronger Sanger team by a 20 to 0 score. Although defeated, the Tech team showed a marked improvement over the earlier games of the season and during the third quarter kept the Sanger team from crossing the Fresno goal line. Both teams were penalized frequently for being off side.

Sanger scored first in the opening quarter, going over for a touchdown after a successful forward pass. Tech threatened to score in the second quarter when Woods, the fast Fresno left half, broke loose for a 30 yard gain after intercepting a forward pass.

Sanger scored late in the second quarter and again in the fourth.

The lineups were as follows:

Fresno Tech	Position	Sanger
Hayes	left end	Tinton
Ague	left guard	Taylor
Loston	center	Malkasian
Laml	right guard	Butler
Cropsey	right tackle	Allison
Linder	right end	Reese
Curtice	quarter	England
Woods	left half	Barringer
Dick	right half	Fowler
Edwards	full back	Price

EXETER ELEVEN RESTS SUNDAY

EXETER, Oct. 21.—The Exeter Legion football team which beat Reedley so easily last Sunday has no game scheduled for Sunday Oct. 23, so will rest that day. The next game to be played is with Santa Maria on October 30th at Exeter.

Exeter is showing up in much better shape than at this time last year and as this year's team has been very materially strengthened over the last year's team no doubts are felt over the possibility of their winning the state championship this year.

Later in the season a game is scheduled with the San Francisco Legion team and games are being arranged with some of the strongest teams in the southern part of the state.

The first touchdown was made by Harris of Reedley after eight minutes of play. Harris went again for another score three minutes later.

Fowler braced up in the second and third periods and held the Madera team down until during the fourth quarter, when Joe Yoon received a 20 yard pass from Hall and ran 20 yards more for a touchdown. Harris kicked all three goals.

Grain

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Wheat prices took a decided upward swing today, influenced more or less by belief in various quarters that the President and his cabinet would find a solution for the threatened railroad strike. The market closed strong, 3¾ to 4¼c net higher, with December, 1.08 to 1.08¼, and May 1.12⅝ to 1.12¾. Corn gained 1-8 to 7-8c, and oats, 1-8@3-8 to 3-4c. In provisions, the outcome varied from the same as yesterday's finish to 35c higher.

Notwithstanding the break up of the parley here between the railway employes' representatives and the government labor board, prices for wheat had an upward impetus. Speculators led the buying, and offerings were so readily absorbed that shorts hurried to cover, and thus aiding the advance. Word that Europe had taken 1,000,000 bushels of Durum and Manitobas counted too as a bullish factor.

Corn and oats reflected the strength of wheat. Rural offerings were small. Provisions rose with hogs and grain.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Selling of railroad shares on a moderate scale attended today's early dealings in the stock market. The refusal of the railroad labor organizations to cancel their strike order invited a renewal of professional operations. Losses among the more prominent transportations extended from large fractions to a point, Northern Pacific and Great Northern showing especial pressure. Steels also were heavy on the poor statements issued by several of the independent companies for the third quarter of the year. Shippings, sugars and tobaccos recorded fractional recessions.

Rails sustained additional losses during the morning, and steels, sugars and tobaccos remained heavy. Otherwise the list showed a tendency to ignore unfavorable developments. Utilities of diverse types, represented by American Express, Wells Fargo, People's Gas and La Clede Gas, rose 1 to 6 points, Royal Dutch was 1 to 2 points higher and Mexican Petroleum, Pan-American and Tidewater featured the other strong oils. Call money opened at 4½ per cent.

Selected issues responsive to pool operations continued to forge ahead, but the earlier upward progress of the general industrial list was halted by the increasing heaviness of railroad stocks and the stiffening in call money to 5 per cent.

Pressure against transportation relaxed in the final hour when Mexican Petroleum became active at an extreme gain of nearly five points. The closing was firm. Bonds, including Liberty issues, and convertible rails, were steady.

Heaviness of rails and strength of oils and equipments were the conflicting features of today's dull and professional stock market, firmer money rates also serving as a deterrent. Sales approximated 425,000 shares.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Rejection by the railroad unions of the plans proposed by the railroad labor board to avert a strike effected declines of one to two points among transportations in the first half of today's strike market.

These losses were partly retrieved when Mexican Petroleum became the leader of a drive against the shorts and announcement came that the brotherhood chiefs and railroad executives had been cited to appear before the labor board next week.

Early reversals extended to steels, rubbers and leaders, the former being rendered more vulnerable by the poor statements of earnings issued by the Lackawanna and Republic companies. Equipments pursued a contrary course, however, and motors strengthened with utilities and numerous merchandising shares.

Popular oils forged ahead almost from the outset foreign issues leading. Even Royal Dutch which recently lost ground on selling attributed to Dutch interests ignored the proposed senatorial investigation into its activities here.

Mexican Petroleum registered an extreme advance of nearly eight points and all but a fraction of this was held at the finish, General Asphalt and Houston also showing substantial support. Sales, 475,000 shares.

Call loans opened at 4½ per cent, but the demand for funds over the week end was large enough to force the rate to 5 per cent shortly after midday, without alteration, however, in time quotations. New England and western banks were in the market for merchants' paper.

Sterling forfeited part of yesterday's sharp rise and exchange on France, Italy, Belgium and Germany eased, but Holland, Norway, Sweden and Spain improved and the Shanghai rate advanced in response to London's higher price for silver.

Buying of Liberty and Victory issues, all at moderate to substantial gains, featured the lighter trading in bonds. Domestic rails reflected heaviness of stocks, but foreign issues were devoid of especial features. Total sales, par value, $14,400,000.

Drives Automobile Down Street With Engine in Flames

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 21.—An elderly gentleman, driving a small car came down Main street at an early hour this morning with the engine of his machine in flames. He parked in front of the Pioneer Bank, entirely unconscious of the danger that threatened his car. Findley Brown, a clerk in a nearby store, rushed to the scene with a big fire extinguisher, and while the driver looked on with astonishment, succeeded in putting out the blaze without the necessity of calling out the fire department.

Imperial Valley Dates Rank High

BRAWLEY, Cal., Oct. 21.—Dates said to be equal if not superior to any grown in the world famous date producing regions of Asia Minor and Mexico are being sent into American markets from the Imperial Valley, following twelve years of experimental work near here. One of the distinctive advantages of date culture: minimum amount of labor is required during the hot season, and that the date palm is not exacting in its soil requirements.

The amount of salt in this low region, adjacent to the Salton Sea, the world's lowest depression not flooded, is one of the reasons assigned to the fact that the Imperial Valley and the adjacent valleys are the only sections of the country where the Asia Minor desert fruit is produced. This year was marked by the introduction in American markets of fresh dates from the southern California district.

WELCOME AMERICANS

RESUME WORK ON NEW HOTEL

Tulare Building to Be Rushed

TULARE, Oct. 21.—With the arrival late yesterday of the first shipment of steel to be used in the construction of the hotel being erected here by the San Joaquin Valley Hotel corporation, work on the building was resumed today. Another shipment is expected today, and the erection of the steel frame should be completed by the first of next week.

According to Leonard Jones, architect of the building, the construction is about a week behind schedule, owing to the delay in the arrival of the steel. As soon as the steel work is completed, a large crew of carpenters and bricklayers will be put to work, and the men connected with the work are confident the building will be completed in contract time.

Two cars of lumber and one of tapestry brick for facing the walls arrived yesterday.

Argonne Hero to Be Buried at Woodland

MODESTO, Oct. 21.—The funeral services for the late Frank A. Travis, son of F. W. Travis, proprietor of the West Side Poultry market, who was killed in the Argonne battle, November 4, 1918, will be held in Woodland Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, according to a telegram received yesterday by his father.

The body recently arrived in Hoboken, N. J., from overseas, and was shipped to Woodland, his former home. The deceased was a member of the Ninety first division. Besides the father, he is survived by a brother, T. W. Travis, associated with the father in the poultry business.

Two Cars Damaged in Highway Collision

HARDWICK, Oct. 21.—A small car belonging to Rudolph Baskes of this place and another belonging to L. W. Twyen of Lemoore collided headon on the dirt road near the creamery Thursday night. Both cars were badly damaged though the drivers were not seriously injured. Both cars are in a local garage and Twyen was taken to Hanford by Deputy Landis for hurrying away without stopping to give first aid to the injured.

Valley Secretaries to Convene Today

Special to The Republican.

VISALIA, Oct. 21.—Indications point to one of the largest meetings of the year here tomorrow when the San Joaquin Valley Commercial Secretaries' association meets to take up a further discussion of the water power problem with which it is particularly interested because of the so-called Los Angeles "grab." Delegates are expected from all of the seven valley counties having membership and the discussion of the proposed initiative measures to protect smaller communities against encroachments by larger cities or by corporations is expected to be a heated one.

Contentions Given in Irrigation Suit

VISALIA, Oct. 21.—Statements of their respective contentions were today made to Superior Judge Albert Lee Stephens of Los Angeles county, by counsel for the Tulare Irrigation district and for the Lindsay Strathmore Irrigation district, these statements being made preliminary to the opening of the new trial of the suit November 28. Judge Stephens came here to hear these statements that he might familiarize himself with the real issues and contentions and also for the purpose of visiting the entire areas affected, which he will do before returning south.

The opening statement was that of O. Larkins of counsel for the plaintiff ditches, appropriators and riparian land owners who seek to prevent the defendants from taking water from the Kaweah river delta for irrigating the 17,000 acres in the defendant district. Scott Jacobs of Hanford, representing the intervenors along the westerly edge of the delta, also spoke. The afternoon was given over to Judge Sloss of the counsel for the defendant.

Porterville Gets Cattle Shipment

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 21.—Sixteen carloads of cattle arrived in this city yesterday afternoon from Arizona over the Santa Fe. It is thought that there are about 700 head of stock in the consignment, and according to Cattle Inspector Ed Isham, all were in excellent condition, apparently not having suffered from the long journey.

The cattle were shipped to Ed Cornell, who has a ranch near this city. This is the first time in many years that such a large number of cattle has been shipped into Tulare county. The shipments heretofore have always been from the county, where cattle raising has long been one of the principal industries.

RATIFICATION TREATY TERMS SENT FORWARD

Normal Relations Will Be Resumed After Exchanges

President Will Issue Peace Proclamation Is Opinion

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—The formal terms of ratification of the peace treaties with Germany and Austria have been sent forward to Berlin and Vienna, it was announced today. As soon as these formal exchanges have been completed with the former enemy powers, it is expected that immediate steps will be taken to set up diplomatic machinery and resume full normal relations with those governments.

American troops will begin moving out of Germany immediately upon the exchange of the ratifications of the German treaty, it was added. The movement, it was said, will be normal but slow and will begin in approximately two weeks.

A proclamation of peace will be issued on completion of exchange of ratification, it was stated. It had been felt in some quarters that the proclamation would be unnecessary because of the peace resolution adopted by Congress, but the President's thought it was added, was that by issuing a proclamation all legal technicalities would be complied with.

Attention was called to the fact that some important statutes contain clauses based on the promulgation of such a proclamation and while the legal arm of the government saw no actual difference in a proclamation and a resolution, it was said, the President had practically decided to proclaim formally a state of peace and eliminate possibilites of future controversies.

Exchange of ratifications was expected by officials to be completed in about ten days. Administration leaders declared President Harding would take no steps to establish diplomatic machinery until about the time the official document signed by the German authorities has arrived. It was said he might give consideration to the names of possible ambassadors and others of the staff for the American embassy in Berlin earlier.

Announcement that the troops would begin moving homeward in about two weeks was in line with the expressed belief that the ratification exchanges would be complete by that time. Meanwhile, army transports will be made ready.

No Developments in Oil Walkout

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 21—There were few surface developments in the strike of the oil workers in the San Joaquin fields today, as the strike neared the close of its sixth week. Members of the district council departed for various fields, after almost continuous sessions of 36 hours, and arranged to meet the local unions today.

Quiet was reported from all fields. The producers were not, as far as could be learned, attempting to employ men either in groups or individually to take the places of the strikers but were continuing their policy of inactivity.

Calls For Miners to Resume Work

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 21—A call for the immediate resumption of work by Kansas coal miners, who have been idle since their deposed leader, Alexander Howat, was sent to jail under the Kansas industrial court law, was issued today by President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, in a letter sent to every union miner in Kansas.

"Those who urged the Kansas mine workers to continue idle in violation of the joint agreement are but false leaders pointing the road to inevitable disaster," said Mr. Lewis' letter, which also referred, to approaching wage negotiations affecting the entire coal industry of the United States as "the battle which is to come" calling for unity among all miners.

Further, the letter asserted, it was "a deliberate falsehood" to say the International union would permit changed working conditions at the two mines, or that the union was acting in sympathy with the Kansas industrial court law. The letter added that the international union would soon institute legal proceedings to challenge all the laws provisions which labor regards as unconstitutional.

Yarrow Makes Talk to Coalingans

Special to The Republican.

COALINGA, Oct. 21.—W. J. Yarrow, adviser to the striking oil workers, is quoted as saying in an address before the oil workers here this evening, that following the visit of Thomas A. O'Donnell to Washington, an effort is being made by the department of labor to effect a settlement of the oil strike, and that the operators are now considering the suggestions. Word as to the result is expected to be received here tomorrow, said Yarrow, according to the statement of those who heard him tonight.

This afternoon Yarrow addressed a meeting of 60 business men of Coalinga on the subject of cooperation between the workers and the business men. His address brought out many interesting facts from the standpoint of the owrkers, and he generalized on labor organization activities throughout the country, referring often to data to substantiate his remarks.

At the close of his address, an informal conference was held in which it was suggested that a cooperative committee be appointed. However, no action was taken.
